Housing Corporation Sends Mayor $6000 Check for Work Done Here

Congressman Rogers' Action Results in Receipt of Much Needed Money

The city of Lowell is $6127.53 farther ahead of the game today than it was yesterday due to the receipt of the long anticipated and much discussed check for this amount from the United Housing corporation which was received this morning.

The check is in payment of expenses incurred by several local departments last fall when the housing corporation was planning to build a number of homes here for workers in the city's war industries. The assistance and co-operation, moral and otherwise, of the city officials was asked by the officers of the corporation and freely given. Sewers were dug and water mains laid and for a while everything was rosy.

Then the armistice was signed, war work stopped and the housing corporation immediately cancelled its contracts. Nevertheless, the sewer and water departments of the city had spent their good money to further the housing project and Mayor Thompson inquired as to when the expenditures were to be made good.

In reply officials of the corporation directed His Honor to send in the city's bill and it would be paid. A bill for $6127.53 was forwarded to Washington but for a long time nothing was heard from it. Mayor Thompson got anxious and made queries. He was assured that the bill would be

CARMEN'S STRIKE IS AGAIN POSTPONED

The rival factions of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., the joint conference board, representing the platform men and the public trustees, representing the company, have declared an armistice, through the terms of which strike action again has been postponed, this time until Tuesday of next week.

The strike of motormen and conductors all over the Bay State system originally was set for Tuesday of this week and then deferred until today, but a statement from the joint conference board read to the members of Local 250 at special meetings held in the Rumels building last night once more removed the impending tie-up from the immediate present.

The reason for the latest postponement, as announced to the carmen last night, is the summons received by the public trustees to appear before the legislative committee on street railways at the state house next Tuesday.

In the absence of Pres. Thomas J. Powers of Local 250 last evening's meetings were presided over by Vice President Enright. Delegates from Lowell to the joint conference board session in Boston yesterday outlined the situation to the men and announced the armistice.

The opinion is growing more general that the state legislative committee on street railways will provide ways and means of arriving at an amicable settlement of the questions at issue and that the strike alternative, which has twice threatened within a week eventually will be abandoned.

SAYS LANSING AGAINST TREATY

Bullitt Says He Told Him if People Understood Treaty It Would Be Defeated

Declares Secretary Called Shantung Award and League Bad

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—William C. Bullitt of Philadelphia formerly attached to the American peace mission, testified before the senate foreign relations committee today that Secretary Lansing told him in Paris last May that if "the senate and the American people knew what the treaty meant, it would be defeated."

Gives Lansing's Objections

"Mr. Lansing told me the day I resigned," the witness said, "that he was opposed to that part of the league covenant relating to a mandate for Armenia. He said he considered the Shantung award and the League of Nations bad—that the league would be entirely useless; that the nations had arranged the world to suit themselves, and that England and France got what they wanted."

"After saying he believed the senate would defeat the treaty if it realized its meaning, Mr. Lansing expressed the opinion that Senator Knox really would understand the treaty, that Mr. Lodge would, but that Mr. Lodge's position would become purely political."

Round of Laughter

The committee senators burst into a round of laughter and Bullitt said he begged to be excused from reading any more from the memorandum of his conversation.

LEATHER WORKERS NOMINATE OFFICERS

The delegates attending the second annual convention of the United Leather Workers' International Union of America, which is being held in this city since last Tuesday expected to get through with their business today and leave for their respective homes this evening, but this morning at the convention hall it was announced that owing to the large amount of business to be transacted it was very probable that another session will be held tomorrow morning.

BLIND TO NEEDS OF EDUCATION

Chairman Walsh of School Committee Flays City and State Governments

Loss of Capable Teachers Charged to Niggardly Appropriation

Lack of foresight and ability to grasp the educational demands of the present day are among the charges made against Lowell, this state and the east in general, by Richard Brook Walsh, chairman of the Lowell school committee, in commenting upon the resignation of Herbert D. Bixby, headmaster of the high school, which closely followed on the heels of the resignation of Paul Perkins, principal of the Green Grammar school.

"Not only are municipal councils and state legislatures blind to the proper needs of an educational system, but this same backward tendency is evident throughout the east," said Mr. Walsh today. "With the niggardly attitude assumed by city and state governments when educational demands arise it is not to be wondered at that school committees must stand idly by and watch their school teachers resign and leave to accept positions in western schools and even in absolutely different lines of business endeavor."

"To the young teacher the schools of Lowell and the east offer no attractions when a comparison is made with the salaries and opportunities being offered by schools in the middle west and on the far coast. Those sections of the country are years ahead of us in education, or rather, they are up to date while we lag far behind. We are existing in an antiquated atmosphere and persist in clinging to the ideas and habits of our forefathers. Until we awaken and become alive to the demands of our children and what should be rightfully theirs, we must resign to the knowledge that the best educational opportunities are not being granted them."

"I can bring the matter right home to our own city. Mr. Bixby is to leave the high school because of an offer of salary and opportunity we could never match under the present conditions. If such a man is worth that much to a Cleveland school, why should he not be worth the same amount of money to a Lowell school? Another instance. Mr. Perkins has left the principalship of the Green school to affiliate himself with a packing house corporation, a position which holds much more in the future than he might expect to match as a grammar school master in Lowell."

"The Lowell school department has not sufficient money to go through the year with a clean slate. Either we must postpone the payment of December salaries until next year, or forego the payment of due bills. We have asked the municipal council for $25,000 for absolute necessities, but have met evasion and pigeon-hole tactics at every turn. The overhead charges of a school department cannot be curtailed. They are as fixed as the stars and obligatory in every particular."

Not to Contribute To Uneasiness

But dealing with plain facts, every person with responsibility of safe-keeping of valuables should keep such valuables in an up-to-date steel vault. Five dollars a year secures a Safety Deposit Box in Lowell that costs $10 in Boston. The cost is, however, second consideration. You want to FEEL SAFE. A box is wiser than keeping a Gun in the Home. A Safe in the office or store is but an invitation. All Lowell and surrounding towns can be and much is accommodated in the vaults of—

Coolidge Declares Walkout of Hnb Officers Desertion of Duty Rather Than Strike

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—The government and laws of the commonwealth of Massachusetts cannot be arbitrated. This declaration from the state house today was in response to an incessant public demand to know the attitude of the state toward the striking policemen and suggestions of compromise.

Calls Men Deserters

"The men are deserters," said Gov. Coolidge. "This is not a strike. These men were public officials. We cannot think of arbitrating the government or the form of law. There can be no opportunity for any compromise in respect to either. Personal opinion is that they would not be taken back if they yielded to my view."

MEN WANTED TO SERVE IN SERBIA

The local army recruiting station at 117 Merrimack street issued a call today for men to serve in Serbia. The Boston district, of which Lowell is a part, has been called upon to raise 2000 men for this service and this city is expected to do her share. Men who have seen previous experience will be accepted for one year and others for three years. The branches of the service which are open are infantry, signal corps, engineers and medical corps. Stenographers, clerks, cooks and telephone operators are especially in demand.

The local station is still issuing bulletins to men who served in the world war and a former service man may obtain one of these war department emblems by presenting his discharge papers to the officer in charge of the station.

REDS CAPTURE 45,000 MEN

Admiral Kolchak's Southern Army Meets Disaster, Says Moscow

Great Victory for the Bolshevik Forces Reported in Wireless Message

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The remainder of Admiral Kolchak's southern army in the region of Aktubinsk and Osk has surrendered to the Bolsheviks. It is claimed in a Bolshevik wireless despatch from Moscow today. This raises the total of Bolshevik captures from the Kolchak forces within a week to 45,000 men, it is declared.

A Bolshevik wireless message yesterday claimed the capture of nearly 12,000 prisoners from the Kolchak southern army.

Today's communique also announces the capture of a number of prisoners in the north Dvina region (the Archangel front). These prisoners, it is declared, included some British troops.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Dispatches sent from Omsk on Sept. 10 by the American consul report that the Northern Siberia army has stopped its retreat: is now west of the Irkutsk river, and it generally is believed that Omsk is out of the Bolshevik danger. They make no mention of the disaster to the southern army reported in Bolshevik wireless from Moscow to London.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The weather bureau today issued the following: Northwest storm warning 10 a. m. Norfolk to Provincetown except Philadelphia and Baltimore. Rapidly rising pressure following disturbances of southern New England coast will cause strong northwest winds this afternoon or tonight.

DENY ENORMOUS GRAIN SURPLUS IN UKRAINE

PARIS, Thursday, Sept. 11.—Advice from American Red Cross investigators at Poltava, southern Russia, state that reports of an enormous grain surplus in Ukraine and southern Russia, which have disturbed American wheat growers with vision of tumbling market, may be dismissed as groundless.

Early threshings promise a crop from 15 to 25 per cent above normal. The Germans last fall had every available foot in Ukraine put into winter wheat. Even this bumper crop, however, will fall short of the domestic demand, and it is declared that not a bushel of it ever will enter into competition with wheat from the United States.

Rumors that General Denikin might export wheat to pay for war materials have been met with intense disapproval throughout territory under his control, and it is said that such procedure would imperil his hold upon people.

In Japan individuals own only the surface of the ground and its products, all mineral deposits being government property.

HOW A YOUNG GIRL SUFFERED

And Was Restored to Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Told By Her Mother.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For three months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, always complaining about her back and side aching so I didn't know what to do. I read in the papers about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. F. FORD, 616 Marcy Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

For more than 40 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been correcting such ailments.

of officers, which resulted as follows: General secretary-treasurer, Charles P. Conroy, Peabody. General organizer, John J. Shea, Peabody. Grievance agent, John J. McGuinness, Peabody.

Executive board, Joseph Dymally, Peabody; Henry Howell, Lowell; Frederick Buckley, Lowell; William F. Buckley, Lowell; William Ford, Peabody; Joseph Labele, Lowell; William Grady, Peabody; John Turner, Woburn; Matthew Gorenshek, Little Falls, N. Y.; James Donnelly, Lowell; John King, Peabody; James Cheney, Peabody; James T. Burke, Peabody; William Rorke, Newbury; George Eagan, Peabody; Edward A. Lyne, Thomas Driscoll, Peabody; Joseph Moran, Lowell; Joseph Welch, Lowell. As it can be seen there is no contest for the office of secretary-treasurer, organizer, and grievance agent, while out of the 12 candidates for the executive board, seven are to be chosen.

In the course of the meeting various communications were received, one of which was relative to the clear manufacturing who are considered by organized labor to be operating under unfair conditions. Another resolution furthering the cause of Irish freedom was adopted and the committee report relative to the work of its members.

A hearing relative to certain articles taken by the national board during the past year was held with the result that the action of the board was sustained. Considerable other business was transacted and at the close of the session the delegates were taken on a sight-seeing trip through the principal districts of the city.

LADIES

GET what you can vs. GIVE what you can!

DURING THE past two years there has been a great increase in the price of hats. It is the fact that people have become so accustomed to paying any old price asked of them, that it has become comparatively easy to get increased prices, even beyond the prices that were and are necessary.

In some measure the public must accept part of the responsibility for this condition, for it is a well-known fact that the public has become suspicious of anything low in price, and many goods sell more easily at a high price than at a low price.

We have attended a good many meetings of the Broadway organization, and never once has the "get what you can" policy been broached or talked of with anything except condemnation.

The Broadway policy has been, and will be, "GIVE WHAT YOU CAN." In the face of this policy, the Broadway policy is a well-known fact that the public has become suspicious of anything low in price, and many goods sell more easily at a high price than at a low price.

Here, we have all been trained in the school of "GIVE WHAT YOU CAN." We have kept to the old teachings in spite of the new school.

NATIONS BELONG TO THE PEOPLE

Have Right to Determine
Their Own Affairs Declares
President Wilson

Must Not Forget Our Gallant
Youth Buried in France—
A People's Treaty

BILLINGS, Mont., Sept. 12.—The text of President Wilson's speech here yesterday in part follows:

"I have come to consult with you in the light of certain circumstances which I want to explain to you. Circumstances which affect not only this great nation which we love and of which we try to constitute an honorable party, but also affect the whole world. I wonder when we speak of the whole world, whether we have a true conception of the fact that the human heart beats everywhere the same.

Mistake to Debate Treaty

"We are making a mistake, I take the liberty of saying, debating as if it were an ordinary treaty with some particular country, a treaty we could ourselves modify without conflicting with the affairs of the world, whereas as matters were, it is not really a treaty with Germany. Matters were drawn into this treaty which affected the peace and happiness of the whole continent of Europe, America and the farthestmost populations in Africa, the peoples we hardly know about in the usual affairs of our country, where the influence of German policy had existed; and everywhere that influence had to be guarded against, had to be ejected, had to be altered.

"Consider the circumstances. For the first time in the world, some 29 nations sent their men—thoughtful and responsible men, to consult together at the capital of France, to effect a settlement of the affairs of the world; and I want to render my testimony that these gentlemen entered upon their deliberations with great openness of mind. Their discussions were characterized by the utmost candor, and they realized, my fellow citizens, what as a student of history I venture to say no similar body ever acknowledged before, that they were nobody's masters.

A People's Treaty

"They did not have the right to vary a line to any nation's advantage in determining on the settlements and the basis of peace; they were in the service of their people and the service of the world. This settlement, my fellow citizens, is the first international settlement intended for the happiness and safety of men and women throughout the world. This is indeed and in truth a people's treaty; it is the first people's treaty, and I venture to say that no parliament or congress will attempt to alter it. It is a people's treaty, notwithstanding the fact that it is also a treaty with Germany; it is not an unjust treaty with Germany as some have characterized it.

"My fellow citizens, Germany tried to commit a crime against civilization and this treaty is justified as a memorandum to make Germany pay for the crime ordered up to her full capability for payment.

"Some of the very gentlemen who now are characterizing this treaty as harsh, are the same men who less than 12 months ago were criticizing the administration at Washington in the fear that we would compound the crime.

Must Not Forget War

"They were pitiless then—they are pitiful now.

"It is meant, my fellow citizens, that we should not forget what this war meant. I am amazed at the indications that we are forgetting what we went through. There are some indications that on the other side of the water they are about to forget what they went through. I venture to say that there are thousands of parents, sweethearts, mothers, wives, sisters, fathers, mothers, wives, sisters, sweethearts, who are never going to forget what they went through. Thousands of our gallant youth lie buried in France. Buried for what? For the

WOMAN POWER VS. PROFITEER

BY FREDERICK M. KERRY
N.E.A. Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Sixty thousand organized women of New York city, under the captaincy of Mrs. Chas. Cary Rumsey, have just been thrown into the battle line against food profiteers. Mrs. Rumsey is chairman of the food administrator's sub-committee on field activities, and she was chosen because she heads the organization of "community councils" of New York city.

This army of women is to be used to check up systematically the practices of all local retail food dealers to see if the "fair price lists" made public by the food administrator are being observed by the grocers, butchers and retail dealers in foodstuffs.

"Our ranks are made up of the members of eight community councils," said Mrs. Rumsey yesterday, on the eve of the campaign. "We will inquire into the prices of neighborhood grocers and if we find any of them exceeding the fair price list we shall report them immediately.

"The chairman of the community councils agreeing to take part in the campaign will act as leaders in their districts," continued Mrs. Rumsey.

Any reports of overcharging by grocers or food dealers will be referred to Arthur Williams, federal food administrator for New York and chairman of the fair price committee, under whose direction Mrs. Rumsey's work is carried on. A woman worker of the "fair price food army" in the district in question will check up the report, find out what the grocer has to say for himself and report the results to Mrs. Rumsey, who will communicate with the food controller. In this way it is expected to reach every single case of food profiteering in the big city.

"Women—housewives—can do more to stop profiteering in foodstuffs than anybody else," said Mrs. Rumsey. "Most dealers will be fair if they know that the few unscrupulous dealers are being adequately watched. We intend to watch them. Organized woman-power can put the profiteers out of business."

A young Norwegian who gave his name as R. R. Ragersten, aged 22, and who was under sentence for larceny, escaped from Dennington jail by bending one of the bars in a grating, making an opening only 14 inches high and 9 inches wide, partly blocked by the bar that he bent with his hands. He is a small youth, not more than 5 feet 5 inches tall and weighs only about 115 pounds.

The best and most stylish clothes you've ever seen

YOU must not forget that the two most important things about the clothes you'll buy this fall are quality and style; or style and quality, if you prefer that order of words.

Style determines how the clothes look on you. Quality determines how much service you'll get from the clothes. It involves the kind of fabrics used, the way the tailoring is done, the other materials used; all the things that give durability and long life to the garments.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes are as good as ever this fall. All-wool fabrics, the highest type of fine tailoring; the liveliest, smartest styles they've ever produced.

Young Men's Styles Especially

We expect to clothe a lot of young men this season, because we have the new, smart things they want. We shall have no trouble in giving you a correct fit; and while clothing prices are pretty high, the advantage in these clothes is that they're worth what they cost. Belters, double-breasteds; Varsity Fifty Fives—are the live ones. When you are ready for a fall suit or overcoat, let us know; we are prepared.

LOWELL PUBLIC MARKET OPENED YESTERDAY

Lowell's newest food shop, the Lowell Public Market opened its doors yesterday for the first time to a large and interested throng of people who availed themselves of the first opportunity to enter this new downtown market on which many weeks of painstaking preparation have been spent, as well as money, to give the people of Lowell and vicinity the kind of a market that measures up to the high ideas of Mr. Charles H. Willis, the proprietor.

The location of the market at the corner of Merrimack and Prescott streets has long been the site of a market and its popularity has long been demonstrated. The present market surpasses in size, elegance, convenience and arrangement its predecessor and is in many ways a distinct asset to the city.

The interior is finished in oak and presents a most attractive appearance. In the center are conveniently arranged the meat counters in the form of a square, the meats encased in glass and kept at the proper degree of temperature by a perfect refrigeration system. Around about the walls of the store on shelves and wall cases are the countless numbers of various commodities to be found in the most up-to-date food shop. The lighting system is admirably arranged so that the maximum amount of light falls just where it should, adding greatly to the general attractiveness of the store.

Everything, even to the smallest fixture and appliance in the place, is absolutely new. Toledo springless scales which are accurate to the slightest degree are used. Downstairs is installed the automatic refrigeration system which insures the condition of all goods of a perishable nature.

During the opening days are to be seen evidences of the many wishes for success and expressions of confidence placed in Mr. Willis in this his latest achievement in the form of beautiful food designs.

A feature of the opening are the many and varied attractive booths, displays, and demonstrations of products well known to the public. These exhibits are most interesting and profitable.

MAY DO AWAY WITH OPEN CARS

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, Sept. 12.—The old-fashioned open car, on which father, mother and the children were formerly accustomed to take a ride in the evening and Sunday afternoons for "cooling off" purposes is undoubtedly doomed to the junk pile by the recent decision of the arbitration board forbidding the use of flooke registers on such cars.

During the course of the hearings before the arbitration board, it was made perfectly plain that officials of the company felt that inability to use the registers would result in serious monetary loss to the company, and as the decision of the board permits their use on all cars except open cars of the running board type, it is believed that cars of that type will not be seen on lines of the old Bay State company after Jan. 1, when the decision takes effect.

The decision of the board is based solely upon the possibility of injury to conductors which may be entailed in the use of the register, and the board sustains the contention of the company that any possible inaccuracies of the register entail less loss to the company than is likely because of the "element of uncertainty" as to whether fares paid to conductors will be registered on the old overhead system of registration.

PALE, WEAK, NERVOUS

The Condition of Many Men, Women and Children.

To be well and strong and to have a good healthy color, be sure to try the real iron tonic Peptonon, by which many men and women have been greatly benefited. Peptonon is an excellent combination of iron and manganese with mucilage, pepsin and other tonics and digestives, and is made with special reference to the needs of pale, weak, nervous sufferers. It is both medicine and food for the blood and nerves, and is signally effective in the treatment of anemia and neurasthenia.

$263,000,000 DUE U. S. FROM FRANCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—A balance of $263,000,000 is due the United States from France as a result of co-operative war activities. It includes railroad equipment bought by the French since the armistice.

A final settlement is expected early in October, as each party has agreed that any bill or claim to which an exception has not been filed by September 22, will be considered approved.

LIFT RESTRICTIONS ON ENEMY ALIENS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The commission of naturalization has issued instructions that the act of May 9, 1918, which placed restrictions on enemy aliens during the war, no longer is operative to prevent the naturalization of former subjects of the central powers. Cases suspended under this law now may be completed, unless there are specific objections to individuals and unless the applicant deferred taking steps toward naturalization within the two year period preceding the war, such cases being subject to presidential exception.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best, most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for scalp is to use Mulford coconut oil shampoo which is pure and grassless, and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is left soft, silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulford coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few owners will supply every member of the family for months.—Adv.

STRIKING COOKS AND WAITERS OPEN CAFE—SERVE REGULAR DINNER FOR QUARTER

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 12.—Striking cooks and waiters have opened a cafe at which an order of roast beef, potatoes, bread and butter is sold for 25 cents and other articles in proportion. The rush was so great yesterday that the place was soon sold out. It is planned to serve steak with potatoes, bread and butter for 40 cents. Park shops with pre-war accessories will be 50 cents.

The union expects to make a small profit but the chief idea of the cafe is to provide a "fair" place for union sympathizers to eat and to provide employment for the strikers.

LOWELL REPRESENTED AT ANNUAL RETREAT

Lowell was very prominently represented at the annual retreat held this month at the Oblate scholasticate in Washington, D. C., which came to an end last Monday with the celebration of a mass by Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O.M.I., of the Sacred Heart church of this city and provincial of the Oblate order for the northern district.

Two Lowell young men took perpetual vows of the order. They were Brothers Emile J. Bohue, O.M.I., and Charles F. Barry, O.M.I. The following Lowell young men took temporary vows: Brothers Arthur W. Salvi, O.M.I., John H. Kennedy, O.M.I., and John J. Connelly, O.M.I.

The retreat was preached by one of the pioneers of the northern province, Rev. J. D. Doherty, O.M.I., who will be remembered by Lowell people as the superior of the Oblate novitiate at Tewksbury for many years when the province was first started.

The ceremonies, impressive as they are, were further characterized by the oblation of the young brothers who pronounced their final vows of poverty, chastity and obedience and received the Oblate cross and special white scapular of the Immaculate Conception. Rev. Fr. Doherty, O.M.I., delivered the sermon at the mass and exhorted the young men to be faithful to their vows. The mass was followed by the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and after the "O Salutaris" had been sung, all the members of the community renewed their vows of religion and perseverance.

SOUTH END PLANS BIG CELEBRATION

A welcome-home celebration of four days' duration was outlined in the program under consideration by the general committee, representing social clubs of the South End district, which met last evening in St. Peter's school hall. The dates are Oct. 10, 11, 12 and 13. That the citizens of this district hope to stage a celebration which will far overshadow any other, even attempted in the city, is the sense of all the meetings already held and as hearty co-operation has been evident, both in money and actual work, it is fair to presume that the plans will be crowned with complete success.

The program, which has been given prominence before, again is skeletonized herewith. Commencing on Friday, Oct. 10, with band concerts, dancing on the green and a splendid display of fireworks, the next day, Saturday, will be given over to athletic carnivals, with programs being run off on the South common and Chambers street playground. A baseball game between the South Ends and a crack soldier team from Camp Devens will be the feature on Sunday, the 12th, and on Monday the celebration will reach a climax with a big parade of service men, floats and countless other features.

The meeting last night was conducted by Chairman Daniel Cosgrove. Most favorable reports were received from the 20-odd organizations represented. Among those who spoke were Commissioner James E. Donnelly, Captain Daly, John J. Gilbride, Michael Monahan, Captain W. C. MacBryne, Lieut. Richard Donoghue, Lieut. Daniel Foley and Lieut. James Hogan. It is hoped that the general public of the South End section will feel free to offer any suggestions which may come to mind and the committee will gladly give them hearty consideration. The next meeting of the general committee will be held on Sunday afternoon in the school hall at 1:45 o'clock.

TO SUPPRESS BERLIN'S WAVE OF GAMBLING

BERLIN, Thursday, Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press).—Greater Berlin's wave of gambling will terminate next Sunday, if an order issued by Gustave, minister of defense, suppressing public and private clubs, is enforced.

Violations of this order are punishable by fine or imprisonment, and no loopholes are left for pseudo clubs under camouflaged titles. Fully 200 fashionable apartments in the west end are now occupied by such establishments. The order applies only to the military district of Greater Berlin. In an effort to stop the widespread prevalence of gambling, Prussian authorities raided North Sea and Baltic watering places a week ago.

PROTEST PERSECUTION CITY IS IN DARKNESS OF RUSSIAN RACE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Complaining of persecution of the Russian race in Galicia and Bukovina by Poles, Magyars and Austrians, a committee representing the Carpatho-Russian nationality at Paris has addressed a petition to President Wilson and congress, in which they demand union of their people with greater Russia. Numerous instances are cited of oppression of Russian peasants because of race and religion by members of the dominant races. It is asserted that these Russians have suffered persecution for 600 years as first one nationality and then another gained ascendancy over them, and that they are now threatened with extinction, unless permitted by the peace conference to unite with their conditionals on the farther side of the Carpathians.

Strike at Marseilles Spreading —Situation Growing More Serious

MARSEILLES, Thursday, Sept. 11.—While the strike here cannot be said strictly to be general, two of the principal unions, the tramway employees and the teamsters, have called out their members. Many workmen are idle and the situation is growing more serious. There is no gas and the greater part of the city was in darkness tonight.

The metal workers, bakers and building trade unions have voted solidarity with the dock laborers and the street carmen. They will meet tomorrow night to decide whether to join in the strike movement.

Don't forget to order The Sun mailed to you while away on your vacation.

Death List Stands at Seven

The death list as a direct result of the strike, now in its third day, stood at seven. Several of the fatalities were due to firing by guardsmen into mobs found breaking windows and looting stores, while two resulted from efforts of soldiers to break up dice games which during the first two days were played openly in the streets and on Boston common. Another of the dead was a striking policeman, shot down by a storekeeper who feared his place of business was about to be sacked.

To Support Cattle

"Are your views in harmony with those of the commissioner?" "My personal desire is to support the police commissioner in any action he may take."

"Would you permit the men to return with the understanding that they would form an organization not affiliated with the A.P. of L?"

"You are now coming into the question of whether the action of the police was, as a matter of fact, a strike and whether the men who left their places might under any circumstances be taken back. That of course is for the police commissioner alone to determine."

"What are the objections to permitting them to affiliate with the A.P. of L?"

"Those have been stated so many times that I hardly think it necessary to go into them again. They were stated last night by President Wilson very clearly but perhaps I might once more suggest the primary objection is that it is fundamental that control of the government and of the maintenance of law and order must remain in the protection of America? America was not directly attacked. For the salvation of mankind everywhere and not alone for the salvation of America. "I appeared once in the presence of a little handful of men whom I revere, who fought in the Civil war, and it seems to me that they fought for the great principle in their day and we know with what reverence we look upon those men who fought for the safety of the nation. I say this although I was born below the Mason and Dixon line. We are not going to deny these sentiments to the boys who were in this war. Don't you think that when they are old men, a halo will seem to be about them because they were crusaders for the liberty of the civilized world? One of the hardest things for me to do among the many men of this country was merely to advise and direct and not take a gun and go myself.

Countries belong to People
"The fundamental feature of this treaty is the principle that had its birth and growth in this country—that the countries of the world belong to the people who live in them. And they have a right to determine their own affairs, their own policy, and that no body of statesmen sitting anywhere in the world should have the right to assign to any people any advantage.

"This is the great treaty which is to be debated. This is the treaty which is to be examined with a microscope. My fellow citizens, are you going to be narrow-minded enough and near-sighted enough to allow them to weigh that great charter of human liberty in that way? That is impossible.

Treaty or Play Lone Hand
"Now the chance is here to accept this treaty or play a lone hand. What does that mean? To play a lone hand now means that we must always be ready to play by ourselves. It means that we must always be armed, that we must always be ready to mobilize the man strength and the manufacturing resources of the country; that means that we must continue to live under not diminishing but increasing taxes and striking enough to beat any nation in the world, and absolutely contrary to the high ideals of American history. If you are going to play a lone hand, the hand that you play must be upon the handle of the sword.

"The lone hand must have a weapon in it, and the weapon must be the young men of the country trained to arms, and the business of the country must be prepared for making armament and arms for the men. And do you suppose, my fellow citizens, that any nation is willing to stand for that?

For Industrial Democracy
"The fact that the world is in a state of unsettled unrest is not due to the extreme conditions arising out of the war and the extraordinary circumstances. It is due to the unusual effect of the conditions under which men live and labor which now exist. That is the condition all over the world. There is no use in talking about a political democracy unless we also have an industrial democracy.

"There can be no democracy with the control of a few of whatever kind or class; there can be no democracy of any sort. The world is finding that out. Like what is responsible for conditions in Russia. I find wherever I go in America, an infinite pity for that great people.

"Everybody who has mixed with the Russian people tells me they are among the most lovable people of the world, people who easily trust you and accept you to be trusty as they are, and yet this people is delivered into the hands of an intolerable tyranny. It came out of one tyranny to get into a worse. A little group of some 20 or 40 men are the masters of that people at present. They chose themselves. They maintain their power by the sword.

"Have you seen these symptoms of chaos spread to other countries? If you had been across the sea with me you would know the chaos in the mind of every thoughtful man in Europe is that that distemper will spread to their country.

Poison Spreading to United States
"That poison is running through the veins of the world. There are disciples of Lenin in our own midst.

"Our immediate duty, therefore, is to see that no minority, no class in special interest, no matter how respectable, how rich or poor, shall not control the affairs of the United States.

"This is the best treaty that it can possibly be gotten, and in my judgment it is a mighty good treaty. It has justice, an agreement to justice, at any rate, at the best of it.

"Don't you think a man who is in better than none at all and the security obtained by this treaty at its minimum, as it is a step in the right direction, is a security at all, and without it there is no security at all.

"The seriousness of some of the debate creates the impression in my mind that some one thinks there is violence. There is no violence in the world, with regard to the reform of the conditions under which men live.

The Labor Conference
"I desire to say, that as many of you know, I have called a conference to sit in Washington the first week of next month; a conference of men in the habit of managing business, and of men engaged in manual labor; what we generally call employers and employees; and I have called them together for the sake of getting their minds together, and getting their purposes together, getting them to look at the factor of our life at the same time, in the same light and from the same angle, so that they can see things that ought to be done.

"I am trying to apply there what is applied and in a degree covered by the League of Nations; if there is any trouble the thing to do is not to fight, but sit around the table and talk it over.

"The League of Nations substitutes discussion for fighting. Without discussion there will be fighting. One of the great difficulties we have been through in the past is getting men to understand that fundamental thing.

"The conference is the healing influence of civilization, and the real difficulty between classes when a country is unfortunate enough to have classes, is they do not understand one another. I myself think the real barriers in life are the barriers of caste.

"It is the absence of the ability to get at the point of view and look through the eye of the person with whom you are not accustomed to dealing.

"In order therefore to straighten out the affairs of America, in order to calm and correct the ways of the world, the first and important requisite in peace, and it is an important requisite that cannot wait. It is not wise to wait.

"The only way to keep men from fighting against grievances is to remove the grievances, but as long as things are wrong, I do not intend to ask men to stop fighting. I intend to let that they will actuate in an order.

Don't be discouraged
will clear your skin

Many and many a girl has a clear, healthy complexion today because some friend came to her with that good advice. Resinol Soap not only is delicately cleansing and refreshing, but its daily use reduces the tendency to pimples, offsets many ill-effects of cosmetics, and gives nature the chance she needs to make red, rough skins white and soft.

If the skin is bad shaped, though neglect or improper treatment, a little Resinol Soap should at first be used with the Resinol Soap, to hasten the return to normal conditions. Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are sold by all druggists.

ly fashion. Otherwise we will have chaos.

"That fault is being found with the League of Nations, is because apparently the gentlemen who are discussing it unfavorably are afraid we will be bound to do something we do not want to do. Now the only way in which you can have an impartial determination in this world is by consenting to do something you don't want to do.

"I find that the two houses of congress suggested there be an international court, and they put it in a place where you would not expect it, they put it in the naval appropriation bill. And now they have it they don't want it.

"If we are headed towards peace, then we must take the necessary steps to secure it, and we must make the sacrifices necessary to secure it and not only discuss it.

"We have served mankind and we shall continue to serve mankind, for I believe that we are the flower of mankind, so far as civilization is concerned.

Sure of Verdict

"I am just as sure what the verdict will be as if already rendered. And what has convinced me most is what plain people have said to me, particularly what women have said to me. But when I see a woman dressed with marks of labor upon her and she says, 'God bless you, Mr. President, and God bless the League of Nations!' then I know the League of Nations is safe. I know the League of Nations is close to the hearts of these people. A woman came to me the other day and took my hand and said:

"God bless you, Mr. President, and turned away in tears. I asked a neighbor: 'What is the matter?' and he said:

OLD SOL IS BACK ON JOB AGAIN

With the exception of a scant hour or two late yesterday, Lowell was without sunlight from last Monday afternoon until this forenoon and during this prolonged period of semi-darkness it rained almost continuously to a total fall of 1.56 inches.

It was the longest stretch of disagreeable weather throughout the entire summer and although it came at the lag end of the vacation season, it nevertheless interfered with the rest periods of many people who cling to September as the ideal month for a respite from daily toil.

The sun was welcomed today with revived spirits and reformed dispositions and if it condescends to stay awhile the individual aspect will be happily changed.

By making 3100 doughnuts in a single day Mrs. John C. Smith of Milwaukee, Wis., a brigadier in the Salvation Army, won the international doughnut making.

CITY AUDITOR'S ANNUAL REPORT

The annual report of the city auditor for 1918 was received from the printers today and has its usual interesting quota of facts and figures concerning the city's financial transactions during the past year. It also marks the final report prepared by Charles D. Fulge who recently resigned from the auditor's office.

Included in Mr. Fulge's report is that of Everett E. Tarbox, the certified municipal accountant who audited the report and who is available at the office of the city auditor.

YANKEES SIGN UP MAINE SCHOOLBOY

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 12.—Melbert Bissonnette of Winthrop, star pitcher at Westbrook seminary, has signed with the New York Yankees and has reported.

He had planned to attend New Hampshire State college, but was persuaded to abandon this idea by a tempting offer. Bissonnette alternates between the box and first and is a heavy hitter.

He is 5 feet 11 inches, weighs 180 and throws and bats left-handed. He starred in football at both Kents Hill and the seminary.

MINORS TO HAVE W. S. OF THEIR OWN

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 12. Under tentative plans announced yesterday by President Thomas J. Hickey of the American association the winner of the association pennant will play the champion of the Pacific coast league and the association team which finishes second will play the Baltimore team which has the International league pennant sewed up.

Original plans had called for post-season series in which the champions of the three leagues were to meet. The change in plans, Mr. Hickey said, was the result of the difference in closing dates of the league seasons.

Rain Interferes With Program at Syracuse

SYRACUSE, Sept. 12.—A heavy down-pour nearly spoiled yesterday's racing but the sun came out and with the aid of automobiles the track was put into good enough shape to allow two of the scheduled six races on the card to be run off. One of the events was for professional drivers and the other was for amateur drivers.

It was 5 o'clock when the six horses entered in the 225 pace took the word for the first heat from Starter Fred A. Upon. Edward P., which won a race this week, was looked upon as a sure winner, but Eather R. from Tommy Murphy's stables carried off the honors by winning the first two heats and finishing second in the third heat.

Edward P. went out in front in each heat, but tired in the heavy going when the stretch was reached and was forced to fall in each brush. The third heat was won by Betty Blacklock from the finest stable, driven by Ben Walker. The times were not considered the condition of the track.

Mrs. Waterworth is the second Lowell woman to be robbed in this manner in the past week.

HERBERT HOOVER TALKS

Food Expert Gives Analysis of Economic Situation in Europe

LONDON. (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Unless European productivity can be rapidly increased, there can be nothing but political, moral and economic chaos finally interlocking itself in loss of life on a scale hitherto undreamed of, says Herbert Hoover, head of the international relief commission in an analysis of the economic situation in Europe just published in the British National Food Journal.

"The cause surplus productivity of the western hemisphere is totally incapable of meeting the present deficiency in European production if it is long continued," the analysis asserts. "Nor could credits be mobilized for this purpose for more than a short period because all credits must necessarily be simply an advance against the return of commodities in exchange and credits will break down the instant that the return of commodities becomes impracticable. Further, if such credits be obtained for more than temporary purpose it would result in economic slavery of Europe to the western hemisphere and the ultimate end would be war again."

Mr. Hoover points out this solution: "A vigorous realization of the actual situation in each country of Europe and a resulting statelessness based on such a realization—the population of Europe must be brought to a realization that productivity must be instantly increased."

In the present-day European ferment, Mr. Hoover says, "every economic patent medicine has flocked under the banner of socialism or communism which has claimed to speak for all the downtrodden—to alone bespeak human sympathy."

Experimentation in varying forms of these political leanings—socialism and communism—has so far, in every case, resulted in reduced production, the food controller says.

Europe's threatened food famine, the analysis says, is due to the largest degree to the human factor of the limitation of effort.

Western assistance in the form of its devotion of surplus productivity to Europe's needs, is a service that the western hemisphere must approach with a high sense of human duty and sympathy," concludes Mr. Hoover. "The economic burden on the west should not last more than a year and can be carried and will be repaid. To effect these results, the productivity of the western hemisphere and of Europe must be mobilized."

A pure syrup—a clean, rich, wholesome cane product. A delicious table delicacy for everyday use. Such is Domino Golden Syrup—different from any syrup you ever tasted.

Of a very rare flavor—just a "smack" of the refined cane taste. A soft, tempting sweetness that is not too sweet. Of a good "body" neither too thick nor too thin.

All the year—every meal—winter and summer—you never tire of Domino Golden Syrup.

Rich Golden in color—a fine amber tint. A syrup that everybody likes—youthsters dote on it. Grown-ups delight in it, too.

Miss McCafferty is well known in Lowell, where she was graduated from St. John's hospital. She went overseas in 1915 with No. 1 Canadian General Hospital. She saw service in various parts of France and England. Upon her return she was presented with the Distinguished Service Medal by the Women's Canadian Club.

When the president was introduced by Governor Stewart at his night address here, the crowd stood up and cheered.

Mrs. Wilson said that the issue, after all, was whether the sacrifices of the war would be in vain. The task of those who fought was only half completed. As long as "things are wrong," he said, he did not "intend to ask that men stop fighting," begging only that they use orderly methods. He said radicalism meant "cutting up by the roots," a process that would be unnecessary if "noxious growths" were removed.

POLICE STRIKE CRIME,
SAYS PRES. WILSON

MONTANA, Mont., Sept. 12. In two addresses in Montana yesterday President Wilson asked that the people truly be satisfied, without delay, so that the spirit of universal unrest spreading from Russia may be banished. Referring to controversy resulting from police strikes in the east, he said the strike of the police of a small city "leaving that city at the mercy of thieves is a crime against civilization."

He said that he had been told the west was pervaded by what is called "radicalism." The president declared the only way to keep men from acting against grievances was to remove the

SOME HOMBRE!

Mexican Who Put 24 Huns Out of Business

BY ROBERT J. DORMAN,

N.E.A. Staff Writer and Cameraman on Mexican Border.

RUIDOSO, Tex., Sept. — "The most decorated man in the army."

Such was the remark of Major General Robert L. Howze as he watched Brig.-Gen. James B. Erwin present three medals for bravery to Private Marcelino Serna.

The medals are:

The French Médaille Militaire, the highest decoration awarded to an enlisted man by the French.

The Palm of the Croix de Guerre.

The Italian war cross.

Serna was already in possession of the Distinguished Service Cross, presented personally by General Pershing at Drier, Germany.

The Croix de Guerre, pinned on him by General Foch at Brest.

Serna is a Mexican, born in the city of Chihuahua, 25 years ago.

Coming to this country he had taken out his first papers when America entered the war.

Serna heeded the first call of his adopted country and enlisted in the regular army.

Transferred to a division of national army men, he was sent overseas in 1918.

He was a member of Company B, 355th Regiment of the 89th Division when that division took part in the terrific fighting in the Argonne in the fall of 1918.

His company was hurled time and again against the German lines. And always Serna was one of the first "over the top."

Two machine gun nests held up the advance.

Serna's squad was ordered to take them.

Advancing, Serna saw his comrades fall one by one.

Alone he continued, putting both the enemy guns out of business and killing and capturing 24 Germans.

HOMEFOLKS TO WELCOME "JOHNNY" PERSHING

LACED, Mo., Sept. 12.—General Pershing is coming back to his boyhood home here. He will return a full-fledged general, the hero of America, but in the boyhood companions with whom he grew up, and played at the old swimming hole, it will be the same Pershing who spent his early life here before going away to West Point to embark on a military career. A cablegram received by Mayor Edmund R. Allen promises a visit by the general shortly after his arrival in the United States. Some time ago when Laclede learned that General Pershing was returning from Europe the following cablegram was despatched to him by Mayor Allen: "Laclede, your old home, your boyhood friends and Linn county are calling you. When may we expect you home?" General Pershing cabled in reply: "I have heard the call. Will be there soon after my arrival in the United States. Can't give you a definite date now but will let you know when I can. Laclede will pay tribute to General Pershing on his arrival not with the pomp and ceremony that marked his reception in European capitals, but with old schoolmates and children, and to the old swimming hole on Miller Creek and to the old Pershing farm. The homecoming will also mark a reunion of the Pershing family. James Pershing of Chicago, the General's brother, and Miss May Pershing and Mrs. Bessie Butler of Lincoln, Neb., his two sisters, will gather at the former Pershing home during the general's stay. The reception will not be without a military side. Decorated heroes of Missouri will form an honor guard. Adj. Gen. H. C. Clark of Missouri will have charge of the military reception. Gov. Frederick D. Woodruff will deliver an address at the reception and other state and national officials have been invited to attend. Among old acquaintances who will greet General Pershing are "Aunt" Susan Hewitt, who made pies for him when he romped barefoot around the countryside and "Aunt" Laveta Warren, who claims to have been present when the future military leader was born in a railroad section house several miles from here. Both are now

"GYPSIES" TRAVELING TOWARD CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—Romany tribes, commonly known as "gypsies," are traveling toward California from all parts of the United States with the avowed purpose of establishing a "straitch" or permanent sacred encampment at Emeryville, across the bay from San Francisco, officials of east bay cities believe. In possession of tribal leaders, who came to the coast to attend the recent marriage of George Adams, head of one tribe, and "Gypsy" Mary, who said she was an Egyptian princess, were found telegrams from headquarters of six tribes scattered throughout the country. These contained but two words: "amen, amen" or "we come." They were said to be replies to a country-wide call for the gathering of the gypsy clans. Not all of the gypsies are included in the movement. The response is confined to the more religious element who still cling to the tradition that one day they would take the road to the land of promise by the "great water," the ultimate home of the wanderers on the Pacific coast. Fifteen thousand men and women and their boys and girls, are estimated to be on their way here. Lesko Aronja, head of a Greek gypsy band, and others have made inquiries as to state laws on municipal organization and the residents of Emeryville are said to be apprehensive that the gypsies will have sufficient voting power to take over control of the town, now a city of 2700 population. The bands are reported to have adopted a central tribal flag designed at Chicago by one of their leaders. It is a green banner bearing the legend: "Horodro Sivity"—"A Greater People." Involved in the migration to this coast are gypsies of the Turkish, Rumanian, Hungarian, German, Moravian, Lithuanian, Russian, Greek, Bohemian, Italian and Spanish tribes. Investigators of German propaganda have found that what appeared to be an old and worn copy of the works of Homer sent to an influential Hindu proved to be a volume of attacks on British rule in India. Only the first few pages of the book were printed with the words of the ancient poet. The remainder, though in Greek type like the beginning, was filled with the diatribe.

Baseball Players of Golden Age Hold Reunion at Home of F. N. Young

With a number of old time Lowell baseball players in attendance, the annual meeting and reunion of the members of the Junior Baseball Players of Massachusetts, which includes ball players of the halcyon days of 1872, 1874 and '75, was held yesterday at Camp Vossay, the home of Freeman N. Young, in Arlington. It was a happy get-together and attracted one of the largest gatherings in recent years. A buffet luncheon was served, and Mr. Young, host of the club and president of the association, saw to it that all had a jolly good time. The report of Secretary Arthur F. Salmon, of Lowell, showed that the club has a substantial amount in the treasury. It was the vote of the members that the next meeting be held at Camp Vossay on the second Thursday in September, 1920.

The following were elected officers to serve during the coming year: President, Freeman N. Young, of Arlington; Vice president, John J. Wilde of Brockton; Secretary, Arthur F. Salmon of Lowell; Treasurer, Dr. Arthur Burr of Boston; board of governors, the officers named and Dr. A. H. Gilson of Quincy; Charles S. Reed of Rockland and G. H. Reed of West Acton. Those present at the reunion and the clubs they formerly played with, were:

Freeman N. Young, of Arlington; Bartlett, Arthur F. Salmon of Lowell; Bartlett, George H. Blood of Groton; Groton, G. Leslie Blood of Groton; Groton, J. H. Boynton of Lowell; Lowells, Frank H. ### THE GENERAL STRIKE

The general strike or the sympathetic strike as proposed in Boston by certain labor unions is the most radical weapon used and advocated by the K. W. W. whose operations are condemned as revolutionary and anarchistic. Such strikes would be no less so if declared by any other organization.

If, as has been threatened, the labor unions of Boston affiliated with the American Federation of Labor should declare a general strike in sympathy with that of the Boston police, the consequences in our opinion would be very serious, not only for the city of Boston, but more particularly for the unions so choosing to endorse the police strike.

That would perhaps be the greatest blunder ever made by organized labor in this country. It might bring about a condition bordering on civil war and one in which every fair minded citizen in this commonwealth would come out in favor of upholding law and order and of guaranteeing to the community all due protection under the supremacy of law.

In order to give any such strike the shadow of justification it must first be proved that the police strike is justified, not only in law but under the conditions of their employment.

That, however, is indefensible from every aspect from which it is viewed, wholly regardless of how grave may be the grievances of the men.

The very nature of their employment, the rules of their department and their oath of office, all are opposed to the police affiliating with any outside labor organization. Yet that rather than the demand for redress of grievances is the main issue involved. It is a question of whether labor organizations have any respect for the binding character of a solemn contract, or whether they believe they can safely treat such contract in Prussian or Bolshevik style as a scrap of paper.

It is to be hoped that the unions in this emergency, will carefully consider the serious consequences which may result, not only to the city of Boston, but to the cause of organized labor the country over, should they decide to wield their power against the combined forces of the city, state and nation, all ready to defend, uphold and maintain the majesty and the supremacy of law.

By a misstep in this crisis the American Federation of Labor may destroy all that it has gained in the last twenty-five years.

BOSTON'S DISGRACE

Every good citizen must stand aghast in contemplating the outbreaks of mob violence following the police strike in Boston.

The question arises are we living in the midst of men who would come out and rob, plunder and kill if they were not restrained by force? The state of anarchy that followed the police strike in Boston is certainly most amazing. Can it be, we ask, that at heart any large portion of the people are imbued with the Bolshevik spirit. If we are to judge from what has occurred in Boston we certainly must answer in the affirmative. That being so, then it is up to the Mayor of Boston, Police Commissioner Curtis and Governor Coolidge to adopt the most vigorous measures in maintaining public order and protecting life and property. Already several lives have been lost, many persons have been wounded and the property damage will run over $500,000, all of which the city of Boston will have to pay. At this is the result of the bungling policy of Commissioner Curtis and Governor Coolidge. Why did they not have their volunteer force or the State Guard ready for action several hours before that fateful day for the police strike? They knew or should have known that previous to the strike all kinds were pouring into Boston to engage in a saturnalia of crime and plunder. Yet these officials remained inactive until the strike had actually occurred and the property damage broke through on its city. Never has there been a worse exhibition of incompetence and stupidity. Curtis should be removed forthwith and Coolidge should be retired from office on this farcical demonstration of his inability.

But as the governor has now taken charge of the situation, he should receive the loyal support of every patriotic citizen without any regard for political considerations.

THE TANNER TRAGEDY

Many and futile are the discussions indulged by newspapers relative to the case of William F. Tanner who chose to die with his wife whose foot was caught in a railroad switch in front of an approaching express train. Some say he did wrong, others that he showed bravery, and still others that he lacked parental love in thus sacrificing his life and leaving his three little children alone in the world. Had he jumped aside and left his wife to perish before his eyes, he would have been regarded as a coward. But in dying as he did he proved his devotion to his wife and displayed a spirit of true heroism.

As for his children in that moment of terrible excitement, Tanner forgot that they existed. His whole mind and heart were absorbed in the effort to save his wife or if that were impossible to give her the consolation of knowing that he was ready to die with her.

That heroic spirit has brought to Tanner's orphan a degree of sympathy that will probably bring them more of the world's goods and better educational opportunities than they otherwise could hope for, yet all these fruits of public sympathy can never compensate them for the loss of their parents. But the real lesson of this tragic case has not been mentioned by any paper so far as we have seen and it is this: Stop walking on railroad tracks; use the highways, and you will never run any risk of meeting such a terrible fate as that of William F. Tanner and his wife.

Learn the role of "Safety First," and you will avoid danger even at the expense of taking a roundabout course in going to work or crossing lots to catch a car or a train.

SAVE THE SURPLUS

Does he live within his income? That is the first question asked by every commercial agency, every credit man, every bank, when called upon to determine the commercial and financial rating of any man. No matter how large his income, how profitable his business, how substantial his capital, he cannot have an A1 rating unless he lives within and upon his income. If he encroaches upon his capital he is a bad risk.

Credit men look askance at any business which has no surplus to provide for expansion, and emergencies. They also look askance at the individual who has not saved for the future. And when the surplus is dissipated in extravagance, they will tell you that the prosperity of the business or the individual is about to vanish.

In many sections, the citizens of the United States are engaged in an orgy of the dissipation of surplus. In some cases, this dissipation already has encroached on capital. Liberty bonds, War Savings stamps and other sound investments that were results of war time savings have been sacrificed at ridiculous profits to unscrupulous dealers, on the altars of unsatisfactory luxuries.

Not only has the money been spent on articles neither really wanted nor needed but the assets of thrift, gained through patriotic self-sacrifice, has been lost. This sort of spending has played directly into the hands of profiteers. Just so long as incredible prices are paid without question for luxuries, just so long will production be turned to providing luxuries, and just so long will supply of necessities lag behind demand with attendant expansion of necessity prices.

It is with the savings organizations of America and their members to check the swing of the pendulum from thrift to extravagance, to teach Americans to live within their incomes. Failure of the individual to do so cannot but lead to a period of financial depression and pain. For the prosperity of the nation is inseparable from the prosperity of the individual.

The savings societies have it in their power to lead their followers to "work and save," to increase production, to check extravagance, to live upon and within their incomes not beyond them.

"LABOR" AND "CAPITAL"

Labor and capital or rather employer and employee, have had recently such compelling proofs of their interdependence and of the reciprocal evils of conflict, that President Wilson's proposal that both be represented in a discussion and adjustment of their fundamental relationships is almost certain to eventuate in a deeper understanding and a better order in American industry.

As the chief sponsor of the provisions incorporated for the benefit of labor in the covenant of the League of Nations, and as the constant friend of American workmen, President Wilson is sure to have the concurrence of their representatives in his effort to bring about new and more advantageous conditions in their partnership with capital. On the other hand, employers have come to realize that there is more in the relation of employer and employee than in that of buyer and seller of a commodity.

At least the responsible leaders of labor seem to be convinced that periodical increases of wages that provoke further advances in the cost of living are ineffectual as a means of preserving a parity between income and outgo; that strikes are not remedies but deadly weapons which do quite as much damage to the worker as to the employer at whom he aims them.

With this common realization of the economic heresies which both employer and employee have held in the past, the president's task of inducing them to seek a common basis of agreement and action would seem not a difficult task. They both know there is a defect in the industrial mechanism. They both understand that the old attempts at correction have failed. They ought to combine their intelligent efforts to find a cure.

Pending this conference, it would be well if labor organizations would declare a truce on strikes; but perhaps that is too much to expect, yet every strike only makes conditions worse by lessening production and every increase in wages adds to the cost of living.

There is great need for a truce on strikes and lockouts for six months or more in order to allow the country to regain its balance so to speak. The committee of the New York Federation of Labor that favored such a course were expelled for overstepping their duty. The wisdom of the committee was self evident. More production is what is needed to bring down the high cost of living. Strikes lessen production and paralyze business.

It appears that a new fad has struck London in accordance with which property owners are painting their houses inside and out with their so-called "lucky color," depending upon their date of birth and conditions determined by certain occult books and psychic oracles. It is in line with some of the Maudsleyan foibles, which for a time amused the people of this city. These things are but waves of foolishness that come and go in certain communities.

The announcement of the board of assessors to the effect that former service men and those still in the army or navy will not be obliged to pay the 1919 poll tax in Lowell is a thoughtful consideration, although we doubt if any affected would have felt any hesitancy in paying the $2.00. Nevertheless, it is a helping hand along the stormy path of re-adjustment and will be thoroughly appreciated by the returned men.

The death of Morton F. Plant at Hartford and subsequent publication of the value of his estate brings to mind his connection with the Eastern baseball league, of which Lowell was once a member. He operated a splendid team in New London and was familiarly known as "Millionaire Plant," although only few writers really knew his worth. His estate has been appraised at a figure in excess of $32,000,000.

Mayor Peters of Boston has received 38-calibre revolvers and a night stick loaded with shot as a gift from one of his admirers. May we expect to see the honorable gentleman swinging jauntily down School street with a blue-nosed barrel dangling just above his knee during the days of the strike?

When the wife of a Boston policeman awakens in the night and hears unmistakable sounds of burglary downstairs and arouses her slumbering husband with the excited whisper, "Get up John, there is a burglar in the house," will he roll over and say, "Nothing doing, I'm on strike?"

SEEN AND HEARD

Put your spending money in the bank if you want to get rich.

Look out for the fellow who calls everybody else a grafter.

It is a beautiful thing to live, and life is made more beautiful by loving relatives and friends.

Omer Smith says decorations are all right in their place, but that their place is not an entanglement about the wheels of an automobile when a parade is in motion.

"Versatile" said the genius' friend, musingly. "Yes, on the whole, I think I should call Jones versatile. He's the sort of man who, if he were a piece of furniture, would be one of those bookshelves that turn into a folding bed at night."

The Versatile Jones

A short time after the armistice was signed two "bucks" were discussing discharges and future employment. "You know, Bill, when we get out of this man's army and try to get our old jobs back, we may find some 'Jane' holding them down."

"Suits me," was the ready reply; "I'll marry the 'Jane' and let her keep the job." "Judge."

It Made Him Strong

A student had a barrel of ale deposited in his room, contrary, of course, to rule and usage. He received a summons to appear before the president.

"Sir, I am informed that you have a barrel of ale in your room," said the latter.

"Yes, sir."

"What explanation can you make?"

"Why, the fact is, sir, my physician advised me to try a little each day as a tonic, and not wishing to go to the various places where the beverage is retailed I arranged to have a barrel in my room."

"Indeed! And have you derived any benefit from the use of it?"

"O, yes, sir. When the barrel was first taken to my room I could scarcely lift it. Now I can carry it easily."

Down on the Farm

Did you ever get to helping out a little on your vacation, gathering clover for the pigs, shifting the stakes of the calves on tether, helping with the milk, etc.? If you haven't you've missed something. The calves come to know you after awhile and look their delight when you come to move the stakes that admit them to better clover space. The pigs, too, get a bunch that you're friendly and you have to keep a safe distance or accept a welcome full of squeals, grunts and other things. And then to carry in the milk pails and later to see the butter made, to have all the butter you want, and buttermilk too! Some time, we'll say. There's a touch of romance in it; not the romance of meeting a summer girl and falling head over heels in love, but another kind of romance even better than that. But, speaking of farm romance, our observations have led us to the conclusion that while the farm may hold its romance for the city boarder, the farmer can't see it. Romance is a minute quantity with him. He gets up at jump-o-day and works till bedtime. No romance in that.

Tomorrow

Around the corner had a friend, in this great city that has no end; Yet days go by and weeks rush on, and before I know it a year has flown. And I never see my old friend's face, for life is a swift and terrible race. He knows I like him just as well as in the days when I ran his bell. And he rang mine. We were younger then; and now we are tired, and now we are old. Tired with playing a foolish game, tired of trying to make a name. "Tomorrow," I say, "I will call on him, just to show I'm thinking of him."

But tomorrow comes and tomorrow comes, and the distance between us grows and grows. "Here's a telegram, Sir!" "Jim died today." And that's what we get and deserve in the end, around the corner, a vanished friend.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

On the Boston train from St. John recently we met Private D. G. Skilling of the 14th Canadian Infantry Battalion. He was on furlough from the military hospital at Fredericton, N. B., and was on his way to New York to see his dear old mother whose age surpasses the Biblical three score and ten by 11 years. Although Private Skilling had made his home in New York for some time he had not become an American citizen. When the war broke out he determined to take a hand in the fight and went to Toronto where he enlisted. He was a volunteer in every sense of the word, being 26 years of age at the time of his enlistment. He boarded the train at MacAdam Junction and we noticed that he seemed tired and somewhat uncertain of himself. He took a seat beside us and it was plain to be seen that he was one who had suffered much. He was very reticent at first, but later on we managed to get from him that he had been wounded and that he had undergone an operation that was one of the many wonderful surgical operations made during the war. He had had skin and muscle grafted from his breast to the forehead to fill a hole made by a snipers' bullet, the bullet entering on the left side directly above the temple and coming out in the very center of the forehead. He had been in many hospitals and in all of them it had been pronounced a wonderful piece of surgery. We gathered from him that after going through the American battle, Aug. 8 to Aug. 24, the battle that commenced the final drive which led to victory, he was moved to the Argus front and started the drive for Chantrel which was taken after five weeks of desperate fighting. He got wounded on the 8th of September near the village of Cagnicourt directly after the allies had broken through. He shouldered a bit when he told of the bullet that pierced his head from left temple to centre of forehead. The forehead was shattered, requiring an operation to take out the bones and brain tissue. The operation was performed in Abbeville, France, where he remained a month. He was moved (from there to the 4th London General Hospital at Denmark Hill, London, and from there to the 3rd Scottish General Hospital, Glasgow, Scotland. After a month's treatment there he was transferred to Taplow, Bucks, England, where he was operated upon by Lieut. Col. Newburn of Calgary, Canada. Before the operation, he said, the mental artery pulsated and was very noticeable because there was nothing to protect the brain since the bone was removed. Lieut. Col. Newburn opened up the wound on the forehead and also opened up the wounded man's side to the extent of ten inches, taking therefrom the cartilage and grafting it into the forehead, thus forming a plate of flesh, the 15th of an inch in thickness. The operation was a success and the plate now hides the pulsating artery. "Lieut. Col. Newburn," Priv. Skilling said, "was well pleased with the operation and was complimented by his brother surgeons and physicians. I am feeling fairly well at the present time, though I suffer from headaches and dizziness at times. I am also troubled with sleeplessness and sometimes my memory is not very good. But I am very well indeed considering what I have gone through. There were a great many head operations that did not prove successful and none was more dangerous than mine. I left Kirkcaldy, Liverpool, on the 5th of August, this year, and was sent to the New Brunswick Military Hospital at Fredericton where I will possibly get my discharge soon. I am now on my way to New York to see my mother. God bless her. She is 51 years of age and she is all I have in the world to care for. I am taking her many little souvenirs that I know she will appreciate and you can rest assured that I will be glad to see her. I carried her photograph all through the war and I was told that I pulled it from my pocket and held it before my eyes after the bullet hit me. I will be tired when I see home, but the sight of her will make me a man again."

When it became common knowledge about town on Wednesday that the state guard orders for strike duty in Boston included the three Lowell companies, many times the question was heard: "Do you suppose Dudley Page will go?" It's dollars to doughnuts that Uncle Dudley would have been one of the first to report at the local armory had he been in the city, but he was in Philadelphia with the Knights Templars. However, telegrams have been sent them ordering all Lowell men to leave for Boston without delay and it is safe to say that the venerable, spy veteran of '91 is "getting there" just as fast as steam trains can carry him. His "noddies" say he is the best cook ever.

The writer dropped into the meeting of the associated clubs of the South End, preparing for the welcome home fete in that section, the other evening and found a congenial company of young men all busy as bees, planning, contemplating and arranging the details of the affair. I observed that the parade is to be a really big affair, embracing clubs and organizations in that section, and what at first looked to be an ordinary parade, now gives promise of being a "big town" affair with all the trappings that the South End boys are able to marshal. "Jimmy" O'Dea, the genial postoffice clerk, who handles the recording of the meetings, seemed as busy as the secretary of state, juggling down the minutes, while "Dan" Cosgrove presided with becoming grace and dignity. The discussions were not only interesting but intensely illuminating and entirely devoid of humorous asperses. But they're all serious, those South Enders, and they're bound to get some place with their plans. Here's luck to them.

Speaking of the celebration, there are murmurings that it might be staged on Columbus day which this year falls on a Sunday, but which, of course, will be observed on Monday. There is no disposition on the part of the South End boys to interfere with any plans which the Knights of Columbus may have for Columbus day. However, if the latter don't stage any elaborate affair on Oct. 12 or 13, it is quite probable that the South End celebration will be held then. If that proves to be the case, the parade will probably draw hundreds from all over the city as its proportions will undoubtedly be magnified by the participation of former service men from the "Fitz" and "Grave" sections of the city, which are adjacent to the South End.

CAPT. MOLLOY HONORED

Washington Club Gives Big
Welcome to Soldier Member; Loving Cup Presented

Capt. Joseph A. Molloy of the Second Division, may never doubt the sincerity of his welcome home, as accorded him last evening by his fellow members of the Washington club. The dinner given in his honor, the after-dinner speeches and the presentation of a beautifully inscribed loving cup, were symbols of true friendship and will create happy memories in the years to come.

Capt. Molloy is the last member of the Washington club to come back to the fold after two years of strife and his wide popularity was attested to by the large number of club members who attended the event given solely in his honor.

A splendid dinner was served at the club between 7 and 8:30 o'clock, after which the president of the club, Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan, extended a hearty welcome to the guest of the evening and introduced J. Henry Gilbride, income tax collector, as the principal speaker. In part, he spoke as follows:

"Qualifying as a private in the headquarters company of the Old Sixth on March 30, 1917, a week before war was actually declared, Capt. Molloy was in May selected to attend the first Plattsburg camp where he earned his commission as a second lieutenant; in September of the same year he sailed overseas and was attached to the famous Second Division with which he served continuously until his discharge acting successively as second lieutenant, first lieutenant and captain, a most admirable chain of promotions when one considers the qualifications of the men who made up the division of the Indian head. That he properly acquitted himself as a soldier is simply testified to by the facts that he entered as a private and was discharged as a captain; that he possessed the qualifications of leadership essential to a good officer and that he learned well the first and most important lesson of an officer, to wit—never to ask his men to do anything he would not do himself is sufficiently borne out by the mute testimony of the D.S.C., Croix de Guerre and the citations which were awarded him.

"As to his deeds and actions he is silent. But his steady climb from one position to another shows best his ability as a leader and his crosses and citations speak volumes of his valor and his devotion to the cause and his men. Of one incident only have we been able to obtain any information. It took place at Vierzy during the Soissons offensive. The captain, then a lieutenant, was leading his platoon which had just been relieved to the rear for a much needed rest when one of the big German shells affectionately called slum buckets by the dough-bor, fell in the midst of his platoon. With utter disregard for his own safety and thinking only to expedite the work of bandaging the wounds of his men, he cast aside his gas mask and worked untriflingly until the last one had been removed. This won him the D.S.C., and is recorded in the official diary of the 23d M. G. Reg.

"Truly we of the present day have lived too close to the great war fully to appreciate the valor of the men who served overseas with the A. E. F. History alone can properly clothe their efforts and in the years to come when the victory of the Second at Chateau-Thierry has taken its place in our annals with Bunker Hill and Gettysburg, we may slightly realize what our guest has been through, we may slightly appreciate the value of his services. That your years may be long to enjoy the honor which you justly deserve is our earnest wish, that your prosperity may be commensurate with the unselfishness you have displayed is our sincere hope and that the same kind Providence which has guided you through the past two years may continue to encompass you with her protection is our fervent prayer. To the end, however, that you may have something more tangible to remind you of our friendship, that you may often be reminded in the future of this night, the members of the Washington club desire that I present to you this loving cup indicative of their esteem and favor in which you are held by them."

The cup was a most beautiful one and bore the following inscription: Presented to Capt. Joseph A. Molloy, U.S.A., D.S.C., C.R., by the Washington club, Lowell, Mass., Sept. 11, 1919. Verdun, Chateau Thierry, Soissons, Marbache, St. Mihiel, Champagne, Meuse, Argonne.

Capt. Molloy briefly acknowledged the gift and the thoughtfulness of the club members in remembering what he termed "my small part in the world war."

The evening came to a close with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

G. A. R. WOULD SHOOT ALL ANARCHISTS

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 12.—Disloyalty and everything tinged with un-Americanism were dealt stinging blows yesterday by the Grand Army of the Republic, which is holding its annual encampment here, and by the Sons of Veterans in their annual encampment here and by the Sons of Veterans in their annual reunion.

In his annual address, Commander-in-Chief Clarence E. Adams of the G.A.R. told his comrades "to shoot on the spot anyone attempting to raise the red flag of anarchy in this country."

The Sons of Veterans adopted resolutions demanding 100 per cent. Americanism of all citizens and calling upon congress to provide necessary laws for the "deportation of unregenerate aliens and those who do not in good faith seek to become American citizens." They also called upon congress to make a thorough investigation of the "causes of the social unrest in this country and provide remedies which will restore peace and happiness," and pledged themselves to oppose to the limit of their power and influence "all Bolshevik movements and tendencies."

Atlantic City was selected for the 1920 encampment of the G.A.R.

Election of officers will take place today. The four candidates for commander-in-chief are Col. James D. Bell of Brooklyn; William O. Lee, Port Huron, Mich.; J. G. Chambers, Portland, Ore.; and John W. Stebbins, past commander of the department of Virginia and North Carolina.

Almost 10,000 G.A.R. veterans died during the past year, according to the annual report submitted yesterday. The exact number was 9795. Less than 110,000 remain. Ohio, with a total of 11,453, is first in present membership.

27 PERISHED WHEN VESSEL WENT DOWN

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 12.—Twenty-seven members of the crew of the Ward line steamer Corydon lost their lives when the vessel foundered in the Bahama channel in the hurricane which passed over Florida Tuesday.

Survivors clinging to a lifeboat drifted to shore at Cape Florida yesterday morning.

The survivors, numbering nine, reported that all but one of the lifeboats was pulled under by the suction of the sinking vessel.

Capt. C. O. Christiansen and a number of the seamen went down with the ship. The Corydon was loaded with 23,580 bags of sugar, bound from Cuba for New York.

The Corydon survivors drifted for two days without food or water and were in a pitiable condition. They include Third Mate B. L. Mellows of Chatham, Mass.; E. Addison, superintendent of cargo; M. M. Johnson, radio operator and six men of the crew.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, describing an "ideal democracy," said that he did not see any reason why wealth should pass from father to son. The sole difference between black and green tea is one of preparation; both kinds can be made from the leaves of the same plant.

BAD FOR BUSINESS —THE SNOB CLERK

BY MARGUERITE EDWARDS

Mr. Business Man, is your shop infected with snob clerks?

If it is, you may be unaware of the fact, but find out, for the behavior of the snob in a sales force may poison and lower the efficiency of your entire business methods. A snob clerk will drive from the shop door more customers than weeks of advertising would attract.

We are accustomed to think of the snob as confined to a portion of the persons possessed of wealth and social prominence. If that were true the snob would be a tolerable affliction, for he or she can disturb no very large part of the public.

Unfortunately, the manner and methods of the snob have seeped through in the business world, and are now annoying the buying public.

Mr. Webster of dictionary fame, defines the snob as "a person characterized by vulgar pretense and assumption of superiority or undue regard for wealth or position."

Every woman shopper will testify that many a snob of these days dwells not in her natural haunts, the mansion and salon, but lurks behind the counter of almost every department store and specialty shop.

The business snob is all smiles and courtesy to the new customer. She may be a good "sales." But, let the customer inquire (initially for a $2 blouse in a shop where blouses "ranging from $1 to $60 are sold") and a sudden suspicious language overtakes the saleswoman. "I'm afraid we have nothing so inexpensive as that," she draws elegantly, but she makes a slight effort to produce and display the despised $2 garment.

If possible, the true business snob turns the poverty-cursed customer over to an apprentice clerk, thankful for any crumbs, or crisply directs her to "our basement store." Her manner, if not actually insulting, is so uninterested, so subtly scornful, that the abashed customer feels one of two strong desires—either to slap the clerk—or to beg her pardon for intruding and sneak out of the store.

Only the well-dressed, full-pursed, socially elect customer is welcomed by the business snob, but many a $2 sale, and many a small but regular and reliable customer, turns from her counter with a firm resolve never to enter the shop again, and to warn her friends against it.

The business snob is the result of two influences.

The psychological effect of handling only costly goods, and dealing fre-

Constipation Results When Hot Weather Stops Exercise

WHEN the system has become accustomed to a certain daily routine of exercise and food, health is quick to suffer if that routine is interfered with. The bowels are first to notice the change.

Different water is enough to constipate. Changes of food when traveling, much sitting by those accustomed to long walks will do it. It is especially true that when elderly people change their routine they quickly become constipated. Yet elderly people should be particularly careful to keep their bowels open, especially during the hot months.

A better remedy for the purpose cannot be found on a druggist's shelf than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin which trains the stomach muscles to do their work naturally so that medicines can be dispensed with. Only a small dose is needed, and unlike harsh physics and cathartics, it acts gently and without griping.

A bottle of Syrup Pepsin can be bought at any drug store for 50c and $1, the latter the family size, or a free trial bottle will be sent on receipt of your address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 480 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

DR. CALDWELL'S Syrup Pepsin
The Perfect Laxative

quently with persons of unlimited income creates in the clerk the illusion of being surrounded with great wealth and social distinctions and tends to give her false standards of living, far beyond her financial ability to achieve. The effect is an irritation and a desire to approach those false standards by imitating the manner and methods of those who have attained them. She is irritated by the presence and demands of customers of "lower" standards, who seem to get in her way by reminding her of cold financial and social facts and pricking her bubble of illusion.

Every woman knows, too, every other woman's sensitiveness to the influence of clothes and environment. The saleswoman in smart shops is required to be very well dressed—often better than her salary warrants—and is assisted by her opportunity to take advantage of special sales and rates made to employees. Therefore, she is, almost invariably, very well dressed, and her manner is unconsciously influenced by the fact that she looks and feels very elegant and fashionable indeed.

The second cause which produces the business snob is economic. It lies in the fact that her employers usually have her salary on the number, or rather on the amount shown on her sales checks. The clerk who makes the largest sales is the best paid and has the best opportunity for advancement to head of her department or of elevation to "buyer" for the shop.

No wonder each clerk strives hard to please the prosperous-looking customers and is bored by the $2 person! Why waste time on a person and sale of no importance when one might be inducing Mrs. Banker to buy a $10 blouse?

At the same time, the cumulative effect on the public mind, of a store full of scornful young clerks each bent only on large sales and impatient of small ones is distinctly bad for business.

It's a little leak the wise business man will do well to investigate and check. Larger salaries and better training would help.

"MIGHTY GOOD TIME," PERSHING

American Commander
Thanks New York and
Leaves for Washington

Arrives at Washington on
Anniversary of Great St.
Mihiel Drive

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Flags presented to General Pershing here are to remain in New York to symbolize victory in the war. Before leaving for Philadelphia today, he said: "I am going to offer the beautiful flags presented to me by Commissioner Wanamaker, in behalf of the citizens of New York to the great metropolis and ask that they be placed on display in the rotunda of city hall or some other appropriate place to symbolize our victory."
"I shall retain the title in these flags in order that I may always have an attachment for New York which has so greatly endeared itself to me."
The general was cheered by railroad employees and commuters as he entered the station.
"I thank you all, I have had a mighty good time," he shouted, as his train pulled out.

GENERAL PERSHING WILL REACH
CAPITAL THIS AFTERNOON—
PLAN BIG WELCOME

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—General
Pershing will arrive in Washington today, the anniversary of the beginning of the great St. Mihiel drive, America's first big effort in the war.
His special train, after a stop of several hours in Philadelphia, en route from New York is to arrive in the capital at 4 o'clock. Vice President Marshall, acting for President Wilson;
Secretary Baker, members of the general staff, the congressional committee of welcome and many government officials will greet him. As the train pulls in a battery of the first division will fire a salute of 17 guns.
After a brief reception in the president's room at the Union station, General Pershing, preceded by a cavalry escort, will pass up Pennsylvania avenue, the route of the First Division parade, to the hotel at which he will make his headquarters for the next few weeks.
Indications were that a great crowd would greet the general both at the station and on his way to his hotel, while District of Columbia officials have suggested that all whistles and

Commissioner Murphy has been on the anxious lookout for the money for the past several weeks and at one time was obliged to curtail his department greatly because of the check's non-arrival. However, now that the money is here, the department will once more resume its normal course.

Congressman Rogers' letter follows:

Sep. 11, 1919.
Hon. Perry D. Thompson, Mayor,
Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir—We have talked several times about your efforts to obtain the payment from the United States housing corporation to the city of Lowell of $412.88 in reimbursement of the expenses incurred by the city at the request of the housing corporation for sewers, street improvements, etc.
Months ago and somewhat more recently also you have told me of the promises which officials of the housing corporation made to you. Two or three days ago I called in a Lowell newspaper the statement that Lowell street work was being curtailed and the street emplers consequently discharged because of the failure of the housing corporation to make the payment. Under these circumstances it occurred to me that you might welcome an independent effort on my part to urge the housing corporation to live up to its agreement. Accordingly, I called this morning at the offices of the housing corporation and after conferences with President L. K. Sherman, the head of the corporation, Mr. Macomber, vice president, Mr. Watson of Lowell, and Mr. Saleau, the head of the legal department, I was able to have instructions issued for the immediate preparation of the check. Later in the day the bureau actually issued the check and handed it to me for transmittal to you.

I accordingly enclose herewith check received and hope that it may be of some assistance in relieving the financial stringency of the street department.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN JACOB ROGERS.

PAYS BILL*Housing Corporation Sends
Mayor $6000 Check for Work Done Here*Congressman Rogers' Action
Results in Receipt of Much Needed Money

The city of Lowell is $6127.58 farther ahead of the game today than it was yesterday due to the receipt of the long anticipated and much discussed check for this amount from the United States Housing corporation which was received this morning.

The check is in payment of expenses incurred by several local departments last fall when the housing corporation was planning to build a number of homes here for workers in the city's war industries. The assistance and co-operation, moral and otherwise, of the city officials was asked by the officers of the corporation and freely given. Sewers were dug and water mains laid and for a while everything was in a state of confusion.

Then the armistice was signed, war work stopped and the housing corporation immediately cancelled its contracts. Nevertheless, the sewer and water departments of the city had spent their good money to further the housing project and Mayor Thompson inquired as to when the expenditures were to be made good.

In reply officials of the corporation directed His Honor to send in the city's bill and it would be paid. A bill for $6127.58 was forwarded to Washington but for a long time nothing was heard from it. Mayor Thompson got anxious and, made queries. He was assured that the bill would be

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—William C. Bullitt of Philadelphia formerly attached to the American peace mission, testified before the senate foreign relations committee today that Secretary Lansing told him in Paris last May that if "the senate and the American people knew what the treaty meant, it would be defeated."

Given Lansing's Objections

"Mr. Lansing told me the day I resigned," the witness said, "that he was opposed to that part of the league covenant relating to a mandate for Armenia. He said he considered the Shantung award and the League of Nations bad—that the league would be entirely useless; that the nations had arranged the world to suit themselves, and that England and France got what they wanted."

"After saying he believed the senate would defeat the treaty if it realized its meaning, Mr. Lansing expressed the opinion that Senator Knox really would understand the treaty, that Mr. Lodge would, but that Mr. Lodge's position would become purely political."

Round of Laughter

The committee senators burst into a round of laughter and Bullitt said he begged to be excused from reading any more from the memorandum of his conversation.

BLIND TO NEEDS
OF EDUCATION*Chairman Walsh of School Committee Flays City and
State Governments*Loss of Capable Teachers
Charged to Niggardly Appropriations

Lack of foresight and ability to grasp the educational demands of the present day are among the charges made against Lowell, this state and the east in general, by Richard Brabrook Walsh, chairman of the Lowell school committee, in commenting upon the resignation of Herbert D. Bixby, headmaster of the high school, which closely followed on the heels of the resignation of Paul Perkins, principal of the Green grammar school.

"Not only are municipal councils and state legislatures blind to the proper needs of an educational system, but this same backward tendency is evident throughout the east," said Mr. Walsh today. "With the niggardly attitude assumed by city and state governments when educational demands arise it is not to be wondered at that school committees must stand idly by and watch their school teachers resign and leave to accept positions in western schools and even in absolutely different lines of business endeavor."

"To the young teacher the schools of Lowell and the east offer no attractions when a comparison is made with the salaries and opportunities being offered by schools in the middle west and on the far coast. Those sections of the country are years ahead of us in education, or rather, they are up to date while we lag far behind. We are existing in an antiquated atmosphere and persist in clinging to the ideas and habits of our forefathers. Until we awaken and become alive to the demands of our children and what should be rightfully theirs, we must resign to the knowledge that the best educational opportunities are not being granted them."

"I can bring the matter right home to our own city. Mr. Bixby is to leave the high school because of an offer of salary and opportunity we could never match under the present conditions. If such a man is worth that much to a Cleveland school, why should he not be worth the same amount of money to a Lowell school? Another instance, Mr. Perkins has left the principalship of the Green school to affiliate himself with a packing house corporation, a position which holds much more in the future than he might expect to match as a grammar school master in Lowell."

"The Lowell school department has not sufficient money to go through the year with a clean slate. Either we must postpone the payment of December salaries until next year, or forego the payment of due bills. We have asked the municipal council for $25,000 for absolute necessities, but have met evasion and pigeon-hole tactics on every turn. The overhead charges of a school department cannot be curtailed. They are as fixed as the stars and obligatory in every particular."

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Samuel Gompers has appealed to the striking Boston policemen to return to work.

He made public here this afternoon the text of a telegram sent by him to Mayor Peters of Boston, announcing he had made the appeal.

Mr. Gompers said he had directed Frank McCarthy, representative of the Federation in Boston, to urge the strikers to go back to the posts, just as if the strike order had not been issued at all, and await the outcome of the conference called by President Wilson for October 5 at Washington.

"Intolerable Crime"

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho, Sept. 12.—Referring again today to the Boston police strike, President Wilson said it was "an intolerable crime against civilization."

"If that spirit is going to prevail, where are your programs?" he asked. "How can you carry a program out where every man is looking out for his own selfish interest?"

Calls Strikers "Deserters"

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—The government and laws of the commonwealth of Massachusetts cannot be arbitrated. This declaration from the state house today was in response to an incessant public demand to know the attitude of the state toward the striking policemen and suggestions of compromise.

Calis Men Deserters

"The men are deserters," said Gov. Coolidge. "This is not a strike. These men were public officials. We cannot think of arbitrating the government or the form of law. There can be no opportunity for any compromise in respect to either. Personal opinion is that they would not be taken back if they yielded to my view."

In the last 24 hours, there have been suggestions of compromise beginning with the statement that if allowed to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor, the policemen never would be called out on strike in sympathy with other union organizations. Labor leaders have not admitted that they would make further concessions. At the same time influential persons have urged that the governor refuse to deal with the strikers at all, and

$3 last night, was held in $20,000 bonds. Five other men charged with breaks were held in $10,000 each.

In Brookline, the selectmen at a special meeting arranged to protect the town against invasion by mobs from Boston and took notice of the possibility of a strike of telephone operators by announcing that police would be stationed at each patrol box for duty "in the event of an interruption of telephone service."

While he could understand why men might differ as to the details of the treaty, President Wilson said he was amazed that some men wanted to reject it altogether. It was America who saved the world, he declared, and now it was proposed in some quarters to desert the world.

The forthcoming treaty with Austria, he said, would be drawn along exactly the same lines as that with Germany and would be another step in the effort to prevent another attempt at conquest.

And Was Restored to Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Told By Her Mother.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For three months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, always complaining about her back and side aching so I didn't know what to do. I read in the papers about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. Fisk, 518 Marcy Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

LADIES

GET what you can vs. GIVE what you can!

DURING THE past two years there has grown up in America a spirit which holds that the public pocketbook is the gift what you can afford. People have become so accustomed to paying any old price asked of them, that it has become comparatively easy to get increased prices even beyond increases that were and are necessary. In some measure the public must accept part of the responsibility for this condition, for it is a well-known fact that the public has become suspicious of anything low in price, and many goods sell more easily at a high price than at a low price. We have attended a good many meetings of the Broadway organization, and never once has the "get what you can" policy been broached nor talked of with anything except condemnation. The Broadway policy has been and will be "GIVE WHAT YOU CAN." In the face of countless instances that have come up where the Broadway prices were way below the market, we have maintained BETTER VALUES instead of BETTER PRICES. Here, we have all been trained in the school of BETTER VALUE GIVING. We have kept to the old teachings in spite of the new school. FOR BETTER VALUES—Broadway Wholesale Millinery Co.

NATIONS BELONG TO THE PEOPLE

Have Right to Determine Their Own Affairs Declares President Wilson

Must Not Forget Our Gallant Youth Buried in France— A People's Treaty

BELLEVILLE, Mont., Sept. 12.—The text of President Wilson's speech here yesterday in part follows:

"I have come to consult with you in the light of certain circumstances which I want to explain to you. Circumstances which affect not only this great nation which we love and of which we try to constitute an honorable party, but also affect the whole world. I wonder when we speak of the whole world, whether we have a true conception of the fact that the human heart beats everywhere the same.

Mistake to Debate Treaty

"We are making a mistake, I take the liberty of saying, debating as if it were an ordinary treaty with some particular country, a treaty we could ourselves modify without conflicting with the affairs of the world, whereas as matters were, it is not really a treaty with Germany. Matters were drawn into this treaty which affected the peace and happiness of the whole continent of Europe, America and the farthest populations in Africa, the peoples we hardly know about in the usual affairs of our country, where the influence of German policy had existed; and everywhere that influence had to be guarded against, had to be ejected, had to be altered.

"Consider the circumstances. For the first time in the world, some 20 nations sent their men—thoughtful and responsible men, to consult together at the capital of France, to effect a settlement of the affairs of the world; and I want to render my testimony that these gentlemen entered upon their deliberations with great openness of mind. Their discussions were characterized by the utmost candor, and they realized, my fellow citizens, what a student of history I venture to say no similar body ever acknowledged before, that they were nobody's masters.

A People's Treaty

"They did not have the right to vary a line to any nation's advantage in determining on the settlements and the basis of peace; they were in the service of their people and the service of the world. This settlement, my fellow citizens, is the first international settlement intended for the happiness and safety of men and women throughout the world. This is indeed and in truth a people's treaty; it is the first people's treaty, and I venture to say that no parliament or congress will attempt to alter it. It is a people's treaty, notwithstanding the fact that it is also a treaty with Germany; it is not an unjust treaty with Germany as some have characterized it.

"My fellow citizens, Germany tried to commit a crime against civilization and this treaty is justified as a memorandum to make Germany pay for the crime ordered up to her full capability for payment.

"Some of the very gentlemen who now are characterizing this treaty as harsh, are the same men who less than 12 months ago were criticizing the administration at Washington in the fear that we would compound the crime.

Must Not Forget War

"They were pitiless then—they are pitiless now.

"It is meant, my fellow citizens, that we should not forget what this war meant. I am amazed at the indications that we are forgetting what we went through. There are some indications that on the other side of the water they are about to forget what they went through. I venture to say that there are thousands of parents, fathers, mothers, wives, sisters, sweethearts, who are never going to forget what they went through. Thousands of our gallant youth lie buried in France. Buried for what? For the

PRIEST RISKS LIFE TO SAVE VOLUNTEERS

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—How Mgr. Patterson, rector of St. Vincent's church, South Boston, risked his life Wednesday night when he plunged into a howling, swirling, fighting mob in Broadway, South Boston, to save the lives of three volunteer policemen who were in great danger of being killed at any moment, was described last night by a man who had witnessed the daring of the clergyman.

It was just before the state guardsmen arrived that three volunteer officers went on duty and started for their homes, unarmed. Hardly had they left the police station before they were pursued by a crowd of at least 100 men and boys, who hurled bricks, stones and other missiles at them as they ran.

Recognizing that the plight of the three volunteers was serious, Mgr. Patterson ran with the crowd, and when the officers finally turned at bay he pushed his way through the crowd until he stood in front of the three men.

"You can kill me if you like, but you can't hurt these men!" he shouted.

The presence of the priest and his defiance to the mob brought hostilities to a pause for a moment. Then it was that the state guard officer, Lieutenant Stevens, pushed through the crowd with automatic in hand. He whirled, and standing by the side of the clergyman, confronted the crowd.

"Back, there!" he shouted. "The first man that advances a foot dies in his tracks!"

The wicked blue steel muzzle of the automatic swung in a half circle. Not a man in the crowd spoke. Then the mob turned and departed down Broadway.

SAYS SOLDIERS OPPOSE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 12.—Senator Johnson of California was enthusiastically received here last night by a crowd which filled the largest hall in the downtown section of the city in the second address of his speaking tour through the middle west to oppose ratification of the League of Nations covenant by the United States senate. The mass meeting was arranged by a non-partisan citizens' committee.

In introducing Senator Johnson, Henry Lane Wilson, former ambassador to Mexico, said:

"Like the late Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Senator Johnson calls things by their right names."

Senator Johnson began with this declaration:

"I am here and you are here because Americanism still lives."

"President Wilson has said the league was being opposed by little Americans," he said. "I confess I am a little American, but I am all American."

"Our soldiers, who won the war, fought for America, for you and for me and not for any League of Nations. Friends of the league admit it is imperfect, but say we must try it because it is the only League of Nations presented. Under that theory, I suppose, if we had but one egg and that egg was rotten, we ought to eat it because it was the only egg we had."

He referred to the official propaganda issued by the national administration at Washington, and added:

"They pick the taxpayers' pockets to poison the public mind."

When he asked the crowd if it favored the league there were loud shouts of "No!"

The audience laughed when the speaker referred to William Howard Taft as "a distinguished ex-president whom many respect but none follow."

FIGHT ON THE TREATY

Reservationists Confer—Bullitt Appears Before Foreign Relations Committee

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—While the senate today was awaiting opening of debate on the peace treaty Monday, the foreign relations committee held a special session to hear William C. Bullitt, who was sent into Russia by President Wilson to investigate conditions there. Mr. Bullitt is said to have returned to Paris bringing overtures of peace from the Lenin-Trotsky regime, while the peace conference was in session.

Conferences between mild and drastic reservationists were resumed today with renewed confidence following the report that democratic senators had given assurance that modification of the League reservations would secure considerable democratic support. It was said practical agreement already had been reached, but an announcement of the basis of the compromise would not be announced until after consideration of the treaty had begun.

Senator Lodge's request that republican senators remain on the job until the treaty is disposed of, it was indicated, would be generally complied with, although it might affect the plans of some who had intended taking the stump to reply to President Wilson.

27 PERISHED WHEN VESSEL WENT DOWN

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 12.—Twenty-seven members of the crew of the Ward Line steamer Corydon lost their lives when the vessel foundered in the Panama channel in the hurricane which passed over Florida Tuesday.

Survivors clinging to a lifeboat drifted to shore at Cape Florida yesterday morning.

The survivors, numbering nine, reported that all but one of the lifeboats was pulled under by the suction of the sinking vessel.

Capt. C. O. Christiansen and a number of the seamen went down with the ship. The Corydon was loaded with 23,500 bags of sugar, bound from Cuba for New York.

The Corydon survivors drifted for two days without food or water and were in a pitiable condition. They include Third Mate R. L. Mellowa of Chatham, Mass.; E. Addison, superintendent of cargo; M. M. Johnson, radio operator and six men of the crew.

The best and most stylish clothes you've ever seen

YOU must not forget that the two most important things about the clothes you'll buy this fall are quality and style; or style and quality, if you prefer that order of words.

Style determines how the clothes look on you. Quality determines how much service you'll get from the clothes. It involves the kind of fabrics used, the way the tailoring is done, the other materials used; all the things that give durability and long life to the garments.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes are as good as ever this fall. All-wool fabrics, the highest type of fine tailoring; the liveliest, smartest styles they've ever produced.

Young Men's Styles Especially

We expect to clothe a lot of young men this season, because we have the new, smart things they want. We shall have no trouble in giving you a correct fit; and while clothing prices are pretty high, the advantage in these clothes is that they're worth what they cost. Belters, double-breasteds; Varsity Fifty Fives—are the five ones. When you are ready for a fall suit or overcoat, let us know; we are prepared.

LOWELL PUBLIC MARKET
OPENED YESTERDAY

Lowell's newest food shop, the Lowell Public Market, opened its doors yesterday for the first time to a large and interested throng of people who availed themselves of the first opportunity to enter this new downtown market in which many weeks of painstaking preparation have been spent, as well as money, to give the people of Lowell and vicinity the kind of a market that measures up to the high ideals of Mr. Charles H. Willis, the proprietor.

The location of the market at the corner of Merrimack and Prescott streets has long been the site of a market and its popularity has long been demonstrated. The present market purposes in such elevated, convenient and attractive as predecessor and is in many ways a distinct asset to the city.

The interior is finished in oak and presents a most attractive appearance. In the center are conveniently arranged the meat counters in the form of a square, the meats enclosed in glass and kept at the proper degree of temperature by a perfect refrigeration system. Around about the walls of the store on shelves and wall cases are the countless numbers of various commodities to be found in the most up-to-date food shop. The lighting system is admirably arranged so that the maximum amount of light falls just where it should, adding greatly to the general attractiveness of the store.

Everything, even to the smallest fixture and appliance in the place, is absolutely new. Toledo springless scales which are accurate to the slightest degree are used. Downstairs is installed the automatic refrigeration system which insures the condition of all goods of a perishable nature.

During the opening days are to be seen evidences of the many wishes for success and expressions of confidence placed in Mr. Willis in this his latest achievement in the form of beautiful floral designs.

A feature of the opening are the many and varied attractive booths, displays, and demonstrations of products well known to the public. These exhibits are most interesting and profitable.

MAY DO AWAY WITH OPEN CARS
(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Sept. 12.—The old-fashioned open car, on which father, mother and the children were formerly accustomed to take a ride in the evening and Sunday afternoons for "cooling off" purposes is undoubtedly doomed to the junk pile by the recent decision of the arbitration board forbidding the use of hook registers on such cars.

During the course of the hearings before the arbitration board, it was made perfectly plain that officials of the company felt that liability to use the registers would result in serious monetary loss to the company, and as the decision of the board permits their use on all cars except open cars of the running board type, it is believed that cars of that type will not be seen on the streets of the old Bay State capital after Jan. 1, when the decision takes effect.

The decision of the board is based solely upon the possibility of injury to conductors which may be entailed in the use of the register, and the board sustains the contention of the company that any possible inaccuracy of the register entails less loss to the company than is likely because of the "element of uncertainty" as to whether fares paid to conductors will be registered on the old overhead system of registration.

More than 151,000 tons of crude petroleum were produced in the United States last year, exceeding the best previous year by about 56 per cent.

The Condition of Many Men, Women and Children.

To be well and strong and to have a good healthy color, be sure to try the real iron tonic Pepton, by which many men and women have been greatly benefited. Pepton is an excellent combination of iron and manganese with nux, celery, lemon and other tonics and digestives, and is made with special reference to the needs of pale, weak, nervous sufferers. It is both medicine and food for the blood and nerves, and is signally effective in the treatment of anemia and neurasthenia.

"My daughter is taking Pepton for nervousness and feeling better," says F. Germond, Philmont, N. Y. Made by C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

$263,000,000 DUE U. S. FROM FRANCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—A balance of $263,000,000 is due the United States from France as a result of co-operative war activities. It includes railroad equipment bought by the French since the armistice.

A final settlement is expected early in October, as each party has agreed that any bill or claim to which an exception has not been filed by September 22, will be considered approved.

HENDERSON WINS IN BY-ELECTION

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Arthur Henderson, the labor leader, who was defeated for re-election to parliament at the general election last winter, was successful today at the by-election in Wigan, Lancashire. He polled 11,404 votes against 10,117 for F. H. Fisher, coalitionist.

LIFT RESTRICTIONS ON ENEMY ALIENS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The commission of naturalization has issued instructions that the act of May 2, 1918, which placed restrictions on enemy aliens during the war, no longer is operative to prevent the naturalization of former subjects of the central powers. Cases suspended under this law now may be completed, unless there are specific objections to individuals and unless the applicant deferred taking steps toward naturalization within the two year period preceding the war, such cases being subject to presidential exception.

United States experts have so devised barbed wire that care of the young bees devolves on fewer "nurses" and more bees are released to make honey.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best, most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The last thing for scalp care is Maitland's coconut oil shampoo, which is pure and emollient, and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two transparent washes on the hair and scalp thoroughly, deeply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an alternative to the creamy lather, which does not really repel every particle of dirt, but dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair does not stick, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Maitland's coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, for very cheap, and a few cents will keep every member of the family for months.—Adv.

$5000 Fine and 5 Years Imprisonment for Transportation of Stolen Auto

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The house judiciary committee has directed Representative Dyer, Missouri, to introduce a bill making the transportation of a stolen automobile in interstate commerce subject to a $5000 fine and five years imprisonment. Concealment of a stolen car while in interstate movement would be subject to similar punishment. Formal action recommending passage of the bill will be taken later by the committee.

STIRKING COOKS AND WAITERS

OPEN CAFE—SERVE REGULAR DINNER FOR QUARTER

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 12.—Striking cooks and waiters have opened a cafe at which an order of roast beef, potatoes, bread and butter is sold for 25 cents and other articles in proportion.

The rush was so great yesterday that the place was soon sold out. It is planned to serve steak with potatoes, bread and butter for 40 cents. Pork chops with pre-war accessories will be 50 cents.

The union expects to make a small profit but the chief idea of the cafe is to provide a "fair" place for union sympathizers to eat and to provide employment for the strikers.

INHERITANCE TAX REVENUE IN GERMANY

BERLIN, Thursday, Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press).—The government's inheritance tax, it is estimated, will yield $15,000,000 marks per year, while its levy on fortunes will yield three billion marks annually for the next 30 years.

CARRANZA NOT TO SEEK RE-ELECTION IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Thursday, Sept. 11.—"Constitution Carranza under no circumstances will seek re-election as president of Mexico and without fail will turn the presidency over to his successor upon completing his present term in December, 1920," Luis Cabrera, secretary of the treasury, announced today.

This statement was made after publication of a report that a meeting of various political leaders had been held to consider the re-election of Carranza.

Death List Stands at Seven

The death list as a direct result of the strike, now in its third day, stood at seven. Several of the fatalities were due to being by guardsmen into mobs found breaking windows and looting stores, while two resulted from efforts of soldiers to break up dice games which during the first two days were played openly in the streets and on Boston common. Another of the dead was a striking policeman, shot down by a storekeeper who feared his place of business was about to be sacked.

To Support Courts

"Are your views in harmony with those of the commissioner?"
"My personal desire is to support the police commissioner in any action he may take."
"Would you permit the men to return with the understanding that they would form an organization not affiliated with the A.F. of L?"

"You are now coming into the question of whether the action of the police was, as a matter of fact, a strike and whether the men who left their places might under any circumstances be taken back. That of course is for the police commissioner alone to determine."

"What are the objections to permitting them to affiliate with the A.F. of L?"

"Those have been stated so many times that I hardly think it necessary to go into them again. They were stated last night by President Wilson very clearly but perhaps I might once more suggest the primary objection is that it is fundamental that control of the government and of the maintenance of law and order must remain in the Grand Knight Robert R. Thomas presided at the meeting and among the subjects which came up for discussion was the formation of a bowling league for the winter months. He is a Fourth degree member and identified with Bishop Delaney Assembly.

OLD SOL IS BACK ON JOB AGAIN

With the exception of a scant hour or two late yesterday, Lowell was without sunlight from last Monday afternoon until this forenoon and during this prolonged period of semi-darkness it rained almost continuously to a total fall of 1.56 inches.

It was the longest stretch of disagreeable weather throughout the entire summer and although it came at the tag end of the vacation season, it nevertheless interfered with the rest periods of many people who cling to September as the ideal month for a respite from daily toil.

The sun was welcomed today with revived spirits and reforming dispositions and if it condescends to stay awhile the individual aspect will be happily changed.

By making 3100 doughnuts in a single day Mrs. John C. Smith of Milwaukee, Wis., a brigadier in the Salvation Army, won the international doughnut-making.

CITY AUDITOR'S ANNUAL REPORT

The annual report of the city auditor for 1918 was received from the printers today and has its usual interesting quota of facts and figures concerning the city's financial transactions during the past year. It also marks the final report prepared by Charles D. Paige who recently resigned from the auditor's office.

Included in Mr. Paige's report is that of Everett E. Tarbox, the certified municipal accountant who audited the report and is available at the office of the city auditor.

YANKEES SIGN UP MAINE SCHOOLBOY

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 12.—Adelbert Bissonette of Winthrop, star pitcher at Westbrook seminary, has signed with the New York Americans and has reported.

He had planned to attend New Hampshire State college, but was persuaded to abandon this idea by a tempting offer. Bissonette alternates between the box and first and is a heavy hitter.

He is 5 feet 11 inches, weighs 156 and throws and bats left-handed. He starred in football at both Kents Hill and the seminary.

MINORS TO HAVE W. S. OF THEIR OWN

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 12.—Under tentative plans announced yesterday by President Thomas J. Hickey of the American association the winner of the association pennant will play the champion of the Pacific Coast league and the association team which finishes second will play the Baltimore team, which has the international league pennant sewed up.

Original plans had called for post-season series in which the champions of the three leagues were to meet. The change in plans, Mr. Hickey said, was the result of the difference in closing dates of the league seasons.

GRAND CIRCUIT

Rain Interferes With Program at Syracuse

SYRACUSE, Sept. 12.—A heavy down-pour nearly spoiled yesterday's racing, but the sun came out and with the aid of automobiles the track was put into good enough shape to allow two of the scheduled six races on the card to be run off. One of the events was for professional drivers and the other was for amateur reinsmen.

It was 5 o'clock when the six horses entered in the 2:07 race took the word for the first heat from Starter Fred A. Utton. Edward P. which won a race this week, was looked upon as a sure winner, but Esther R. from Tommy Murphy's stables carried off the honors by winning the first two heats and finishing second in the third heat.

Edward P. went out in front in each heat, but tired in the heavy going when the stretch was reached and was forced to fall in each heat. The third heat was won by Betty Blacklock from the Geers stable, driven by Ben Walker. The times were not had considering the condition of the track.

POLICE SEEK SNATCH THIEF

The police are searching today for the snatch thief who robbed Mrs. John Waterworth of a pocket book, containing $10 in cash, on Gorham street last evening. The theft took place near the intersection of Moore street, and the man made his escape before Mrs. Waterworth could give an alarm. Mrs. Waterworth is the second Lowell woman to be robbed in this manner in the past week.

DOYLE BEATS WEST

LYNN, Sept. 12.—In the feature bout at the Casino A.C. here last night Paul Doyle of Boston won an easy victory over Chick West of Holyoke in 12 rounds. West had a lot of respect for Doyle and showed it by keeping on the defensive and doing considerable holding. There were three other bouts. The attendance was large.

SOME HOMBRE!

Mexican Who Put 24 Huns Out of Business

BY ROBERT J. DORMAN,
N.E.A. Staff Writer and Cameraman on Mexican Border.

RUIDOSO, Tex., Sept. — "The most decorated man in the army."

Such was the remark of Major General Robert L. Howze as he watched Brig.-Gen. James B. Erwin present three medals for bravery to Private Marcelino Serna.

The medals are:
The French Medaille Militaire, the highest decoration awarded to an enlisted man by the French.

The Palm of the Croix de Guerre.

The Italian war cross.

Serna was already in possession of the Distinguished Service Cross, presented personally by General Pershing at Drier, Germany.

The Croix de Guerre, pinned on him by General Foch at Brest.

Serna is a Mexican, born in the city

of Chihuahua, 25 years ago.

Coming to this country he had taken out his first papers when America entered the war.

Serna heeded the first call of his adopted country and enlisted in the regular army.

Transferred to a division of national army men, he was sent overseas in 1918.

He was a member of Company B, 355th Regiment of the 89th Division when that division took part in the terrific fighting in the Argonne in the fall of 1918.

His company was hurled time and again against the German lines. And always Serna was one of the first "over the top."

Two machine gun nests held up the advance.

Serna's squad was ordered to take them.

Advancing, Serna saw his comrades fall one by one.

Alone he continued, putting both the enemy guns out of business and killing and capturing 21 Germans.

EAGLES' OUTING

At the meeting of the outing committee of Lowell Aerie 223 held last evening in Eagles' hall, Harrington building, Central street, the final arrangements for the outing September 14th, were completed.

The sports will include 100 yard dash, hop, step and jump, three legged race, swimming race and boat race. The main feature will be a ball game and pig contest, the pig being donated by Bro. John Pinardi. Worthy President David J. Hackett reports visiting brothers will be present from Lynn, Feabody, Salem, Maynard, Hudson, Marlboro, Lawrence and Nashua aeries. Over 500 tickets have been disposed of and a good time is expected. Autos will leave the hall every half hour, starting at 8 a. m.

A good swift kick

"KICKING" about the quality in boys' clothes has been a favorite pastime of parents who had to pay for the clothes. There were good clothes for boys, but they had to cost enough to be good; they cost more than many folks wanted to pay.

But Hart Schaffner & Marx decided to make boys' clothes; to make them as they make men's clothes—all wool fabrics, best of tailoring, lively style; and as soon as they decided that, we decided to sell these clothes for boys.

They cost enough to be good; you can pay less, and get less. We offer you Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes for boys; the best we've ever seen. You ought to see them.

NEW SALVATION ARMY
HEAD ENTHUSIASTIC

Fresh from four years' service as commander of the Salvation Army at Bangor, Me., and full of enthusiasm over his new command, Adj. Robert Klepzig, the recently appointed successor to Adj. Clarke who for the past two years guided the destinies of the Lowell "Salles," arrived in the city last evening to take up his new duties. Adj. Klepzig's wife and family accompanied him, and will make their home at 72 Royal street for the present.

Welcome services are to be held at the Salvation Army hall on Jackson street tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, and three services will take place on Sunday, one in the morning, one in the afternoon and evening.

Plans will soon be underway for the new Salvation Army building, he told The Sun today, and he confidently anticipates that the structure will be well underway before the snow flies. The building will not only be a Salvation Army meeting place, declared the adjutant, but will be used as a social center for the community in general.

Adj. Klepzig has served with the "Salles" for 18 years. He joined the organization in New York city when 20 years of age, and has been an officer for 14 years. He has been commander in several cities in New York, Maine and Massachusetts.

While serving as adjutant of the Bangor, Me., army, he was elected a MANILA, Thursday, Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Renewed efforts to obtain independence for the Philippine Islands will be made next year by a Filipino mission which will visit the United States and lay before the national conventions of the republican and democratic parties the matter of insuring independence plank in the party platforms. Announcement of the proposed action was announced here today. A Filipino mission, recently returned home after unsuccessful efforts to have congress declare the independence of the islands.

The new mission, which will be headed by Manuel Quezon, territorial delegate to congress, will leave here next February. He was spokesman for the first mission.

BURNEY GOT WORST OF THE ARGUMENT

George Burney is rather an argumentative sort of fellow. George started an argument in a Thorndike street restaurant early last evening with the proprietor and when peace settled down to police headquarters accompanied by several members of Lowell's "minstrel" and 1000 people, who had "listened in" on the argument went their various ways.

It was all because the proprietor didn't agree with him. George told Judge Enright in police court this morning, when he arose to plead not guilty to a drunkenness charge. He had paid for his supper, had George, according to his story, and then the restaurant had refused to give it to him.

Leut. Maher took up the story at this point and explained that George had got rather peeved when the proprietor had announced that no money had been paid for a meal, and therefore no meal was going to be served. George attempted to assert his rights with a chair, but his aim was poor, and when the police forced their way through the crowd they found George nursing a badly damaged head.

George declared most emphatically that he wasn't drunk. He had taken a couple of glasses of beer during the afternoon, that was all. In the end, it was decided to allow George to do his arguing with the authorities at the state farm for the next few months, and it was so ordered.

For drunkenness, William J. Kelley was fined $10 and Agnes Richards, for the same offense, drew down three months in the house of correction. She appeared.

SEAUL IS IN STATE OF SIEGE

TOKIO, Wednesday, Sept. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Since the attempt to assassinate Baron Salto, governor of Korea at Seoul on September 2, every part of that city has been occupied by Japan troops and the place virtually is in a state of siege. The assassin still is at large, although a number of persons suspected of being implicated in the plot, are under arrest.

The attack followed days of agitation in Seoul, the demonstrations being marked by flag raising, public meetings and the closing of shops. An independent newspaper was issued on August 22, the ninth anniversary of the annexation of Korea by Japan as avowed expression of protest. The day was called "National Mourning Day" in the publication.

HOMEFOLKS TO WELCOME!

"JOHNNY" PERSHING

LACLEDE, Mo., Sept. 12.—General Pershing is coming back to his boyhood home here. He will return a full-fledged general, the hero of America, but to the boyhood companions with whom he stole apples and played at the old summer home, it will be the "Johnny" Pershing who spent his early life here before going away to West Point to embark on a military career.

A telegram received by Mayor Edmund B. Allen promises a visit by the general shortly after his arrival in the United States.

Some time ago when Laclede learned that General Pershing was returning from Europe the following telegram was despatched to him by Mayor Allen:

"Laclede, your old home, your boyhood friends and Linn county are calling you. When may we expect you home?"

General Pershing replied in reply: "I have heard the call. Will be there soon after my arrival in the United States. Can't give you definite date now but will let you know soon."

Laclede will pay tribute to General Pershing on his arrival, and with the pomp and ceremony that marked his reception in European countries.

The homecoming will also mark a reunion of the Pershing family. General Pershing of Chicago, the general's brother, and Miss May Pershing and Mrs. Bessie Butler of Lincoln, Neb., his two sisters, will gather at the former Pershing home during the general's stay.

The reception will not be without a military side. Decorated heroes of Missouri will form an honor guard. Adj. Gen. H. C. Clark of Missouri will have charge of the military reception.

Gov. Frederick D. Gardner will deliver an address at the celebration and other state and national officials have been invited to attend.

Among old acquaintances who will greet General Pershing are "Aunt" Susan Hewitt, who is 100 years old, when he romped around the countryside as a "Tommy" during the war, who claims to have been present when the future military leader was born in a railroad station house several miles from here. Both are neighbors.

TOBACCO HABIT DANGEROUS

Says Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital, thousands of men suffering from fatal diseases would be in perfect health today were it not for the deadly drug, nicotine. "It is a stupor agent in any form. Just go to any up-to-date drug store and see some Nicotin tablets; take them as directed, and let the pernicious habit quickly disappear. Dr. Connor's method of nicotine poisoning and how to avoid it. In the meantime try Nicotin tablets. You will be surprised at the results."—Adv.

"GYPSIES" TRAVELING TOWARD CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—Romany tribes, commonly known as "gypsies," are traveling toward California from all parts of the United States with the avowed purpose of establishing a "birthplace" or permanent sacred encampment at Emeryville, across the bay from San Francisco, officials of east bay cities believe.

In possession of tribal leaders, who came to the coast to attend the recent marriage of George Adams, head of one tribe, and "Gypsy" Mary, who said she was an Egyptian princess, were found telegrams from headquarters of six tribes scattered throughout the country. These contained but two words: "Gypsy" or "we come." They were said to be replies to a country-wide call for the gathering of the gypsy clans.

Not all of the gypsies are included in the movement. The response is confined to the more religious element who still cling to the tradition that one day they would take the road to the land of promise by the "great water," the ultimate home of the wandering on the Pacific coast.

Fifteen thousand men and women and their boys and girls, are estimated to be on their way here. Los Angeles, head of a Greek gypsy band, and others have made inquiries as to state laws on municipal organization and the residents of Emeryville are said to be apprehensive that the gypsies will have sufficient voting power to take over control of the town, now a city of 2700 population.

The bands are reported to have adopted a central tribal flag designed at Chicago by one of their leaders. It is a green banner bearing the legend: "Borodiro Sivory"—"A Greater People." Involved in the migration to this coast are gypsies of the Turkish, Rumanian, Hungarian, German, Moravian, Lithuanian, Russian, Greek, Bohemian, Italian and Spanish tribes.

Investigators of German propaganda have found that what appeared to be an old and worn copy of the works of Homer sent to an influential Hindu proved to be a volume of attacks on British rule in India. Only the first few pages of the book were printed with the words of the ancient poet. The remainder, though in Greek type like the beginning, was filled with diatribes.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 12.—Hank Gowdy came home to his native heath yesterday and was welcomed by 3000 fans, who saw the Boston Braves win an exhibition game from the Columbus team, 10 to 4.

The home fans saw their fellow townsman in action not only for the first time since he came home from France but for the first time since he became a major league baseball player.

The one-time hot bat for the Columbus team not only took away three base hits out of four times up, but he also a chest of solid silver worth $350, the gift of fans who chipped in small bits by popular subscription. Mayor Karb of Columbus, in behalf of the city and fans, presented the gift.

BIG TRACK AND FIELD MEET

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Star athletes from nearly every state in the union were entered in the two days' track and field meet for the National A.A.U. championships which started today at Franklin field. The entry list was one of the largest in the history of the games, 215 men being listed for the junior events and 171 in the senior meet. Nineteen events were on each day's program.

The sprint events today brought together a great field, including Henry Williams, Spokane, A. C. the Pacific coast champion; Dan Taylor, Meadowbrook club, Philadelphia; A. B. Reed, West End house, Boston; and Walter Duveney, Boston, A. A., winner of the sprints at Camp Dix.

In the quarter mile dash, the entries included Earl S. Dudley, Jr., Boston A. A.; A. Rarky, University of Chicago; Elmer Smith, University of Pennsylvania; C. N. O'Leary, Boston A. A.; and Al Pilsenbeck, the Columbia star. James Connolly, Boston A. A., was the favorite in the mile run. He defeated Joe Ray at the Meadowbrook games here last June.

The meet is being held under the auspices of the Middle Atlantic association of the A.A.U.

OLD TIMERS GATHER

Baseball Players of Golden Age Hold Reunion at Home of F. N. Young

With a number of old time Lowell baseball players in attendance, the annual meeting and reunion of the members of the Junior Baseball Players of Massachusetts which includes ball tossers of the halcyon days of 1873, 1874 and '75, was held yesterday at Camp Yousay, the home of Freeman N. Young, in Arlington. It was a happy get-together and attracted one of the largest gatherings in recent years.

A buffet luncheon was served, and Mr. Young, host of the club and president of the association, saw to it that all had a lovely good time. The report of Secretary Arthur P. Salmon, of Lowell, showed that the club has a substantial amount in the treasury. It was the vote of the members that the next meeting be held at Camp Yousay the second Thursday in September, 1920.

The following were elected officers to serve during the coming year: President, Freeman N. Young, of Arlington; Vice President, John J. White, of Brockton; Secretary, Arthur P. Salmon, of Lowell; Treasurer, D. Arthur Burr, of Boston; board of government, the officers named and Dr. A. H. Gibson of Quincy, Charles S. Beal of Rockland and G. H. Reed of West Acton.

their third series battle at Spalding park. The game is scheduled for 3.15 o'clock, sharp, and as these games have a happy habit of commencing on time, it is well to get an early start to the ball yard.

Each club will present the same lineup which represented it last week, with the exception that the pitching selections will be left until the last minute. For the Knights, either Devlin or Cawley will work, while Mgr. Hanger will choose between Bridgeford and Condon, with the chances favoring the former. A double umpire system will be used, with Keeler and O'Day as the probable arbiters.

The lineup follows:

CAPT. MOLLOY HONORED

Washington Club Gives Big
Welcome to Soldier Member; Loving Cup Presented

Capt. Joseph A. Molloy of the Second Division, may never doubt the sincerity of his welcome home, as accorded him last evening by his fellow members of the Washington club. The dinner given in his honor, the after-dinner speeches and the presentation of a beautifully inscribed loving cup were symbols of true friendship and will create happy memories in the years to come.

Capt. Molloy is the last member of the Washington club to come back to the fold after two years of strife and his wide popularity was attested to by the large number of club members who attended the event given solely in his honor.

A splendid dinner was served at the club between 7 and 8:30 o'clock, after which the president of the club, Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan, extended a hearty welcome to the guest of the evening and introduced J. Henry Gilchrist, income tax collector, as the principal speaker. In part, he spoke as follows:

"Enlisting as a private in the headquarters company of the Old Sixth on March 30, 1917, a week before war was actually declared, Capt. Molloy was in May selected to attend the first Plattsburg camp where he earned his commission as a second lieutenant; in September of the same year he sailed overseas and was attached to the famous Second Division with which he served continuously until his discharge acting successively as second lieutenant, first lieutenant and captain, a most admirable chain of promotions when one considers the qualifications of the men who made up the division of the Indian head. That he properly acquitted himself as a soldier is simply testified to by the facts that he entered as a private and was discharged as a captain; that he possessed the qualifications of leadership essential to a good officer and that he learned well the first and most important lesson of an officer, to wit—never to ask his men to do anything he would not do himself in sufficiently borne out by the many testimonies of the D.S.C., Croix de Guerre and the citations which were awarded him.

"As to his deeds and actions he is silent. But his steady climb from one position to another shows best his ability as a leader and his crosses and citations speak volumes of his valor and his devotion to the cause and his men. Of one incident only have we been able to obtain any information. It took place at Vierz during the Soissons offensive. The captain, then a lieutenant, was leading his platoon which had just been relieved to the rear for a much needed rest when one of the big German shells affectionately called dum-bucks by the dough-boy, fell in the midst of his platoon. With utter disregard for his own safety and thinking only to expedite the work of handiaging the wounds of his men, he cast aside his gas mask and worked untiringly until the last one had been removed. This won him the D.S.C. and is recorded in the official diary of the 234 M. G. Reg.

"Truly we of the present day have lived too close to the great war fully to appreciate the valor of the men who served overseas with the A. E. F. History alone can properly clothe their efforts and in the years to come when the victory of the Second at Chateau-Thierry has taken its place in our annals with Bunker Hill and Gettysburg, we may slightly realize what our guest has been through, we may slightly appreciate the value of his services. That your years may be long to enjoy the honor which you justly deserve is our earnest wish, that your prosperity may be commensurate with the unselfishness you have displayed is our sincere hope and that the same kind Providence which has guided you through the past two years may continue to encompass you with her protection in our fervent prayer. To the end, however, that you may have something more tangible to remind you of our friendship, that you may often be reminded in the future of this night, the members of the Washington club desire that I present to you this loving cup indicative of their esteem and favor in which you are held by them."

The cup was a most beautiful one and bore the following inscription: Presented to Capt. Joseph A. Molloy, U.S.A., D.S.C., C.G. by the Washington club, Lowell, Mass., Sept. 11, 1919. Verdun, Chateau Thierry, Soissons, Marbache, St. Mihiel, Champagne, Meuse, Arronne.

Capt. Molloy briefly acknowledged the gift and the thoughtfulness of the club members in remembering what he termed "my small part in the world war."

The evening came to a close with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Changes at the opening of today's stock market, indicated a division of sentiment. In the main, however, the tendency was toward materially higher prices, especially among equipments, steels, oils, shinnings and leathers. American locomotive, Crucible Steel, Mexican and California Petroleum, American International and Atlantic Gulf made early gains of 2 to 3 points. Baldwin Locomotive came forward later with Standard Oil and General Motors, Texas Co., and several high grade tobacco, notably Lorillard, United States Steel held within fractional bounds on moderate pressure.

Additional recoveries from the uncertain opening occurred in the first hour. United States Steel, being the only important stock to fall behind. Oils became more conspicuous. Mexican Petroleum extending its gain to almost 6 points and Texas Co. and Royal Dutch gaining slightly over three points each. Ralls were neglected, but the strength of railway equipments, the motor group, American Woolen, Worthington Pump and Savings Arms reflected favorable conditions. Reactions of 1 to 2 points later resulted from the increased heaviness of United States Steel hardened again at noon. Call money opened at 6 per cent. The market became dull at mid-day, equipments faring much of their gain with Baldwin selling under yesterday's closing price and U. S. Steel adding a fraction to its early setback. Oils and motor specialties were the only features at comparative strength.

Equipments and rubber share reacted later but tobacco, food and motor specialties, made substantial gains. The closing was irregular.

Constipation Results When Hot Weather Stops Exercise

WHEN the system has become accustomed to a certain daily routine of exercise and food, health is quick to suffer if that routine is interfered with. The bowels are first to notice the change.

Different water is enough to constipate. Changes of food when traveling, much eating by those accustomed to long walks will do it. It is especially true that when elderly people change their routine they quickly become constipated. Yet elderly people should be particularly careful to keep their bowels open, especially during the hot months.

A better remedy for the purpose cannot be found on a druggist's shelf than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin which tones the stomach-muscles to do their work naturally so that medicines can be dispensed with. Only a small dose is needed, and unlike harsh physics and cathartics, it acts gently and without griping.

A bottle of Syrup Pepsin can be bought at any drug store for 50c and $1, the latter the family size, or a free trial bottle will be sent on receipt of your address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 469 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

REDS CAPTURE 45,000 MEN

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The remainder of Admiral Kolchak's southern army in the region of Arkhangelsk and Orsk was surrendered to the Bolsheviks. It is claimed in a Bolshevik wireless message despatch from Moscow today. This raises the total of Bolshevik captures from the Kolchak forces within a week to 45,000 men, it is declared.

A Bolshevik wireless message yesterday claimed the capture of nearly 12,000 prisoners from the Kolchak southern army.

Today's communiques also announced the capture of a number of prisoners in the north Dvina region (the Archangel front). These prisoners, it is declared, included some British troops.

DENY ENORMOUS GRAIN SURPLUS IN UKRAINE

PARIS, Thursday, Sept. 11.—Advices from American Red Cross investigators at Poltava, southern Russia, state that reports of an enormous grain surplus in Ukraine and southern Russia, which have disturbed American wheat growers with vision of tumbling markets, may be dismissed as groundless.

Early threshings promise a crop from 10 to 25 per cent above normal. The Germans last fall had every available foot in Ukraine put into winter wheat. Even this bumper crop, however, will fall short of the domestic demand, and it is declared that not a bushel of it ever will enter into competition with wheat from the United States.

DEMAND WITHDRAWAL OF BRITISH TROOPS

GLASGOW, Sept. 12.—Severe criticism of Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for war, for his declaration of yesterday regarding the delay in the evacuation of North Russia by British forces, was delivered by James Henry Thomas, labor member of parliament, at the Trades Union congress today. Mr. Thomas moved a resolution demanding that the troops be withdrawn from Russia.

Secretary Churchill said Mr. Thomas had not answered the recent indictment by Lieut. Col. Sherwood Kelly, a volunteer officer in the North Russian relief force that British lives were being thrown away in the Archangel region, but on the contrary the secretary had threatened to punish the colonel.

The congress enthusiastically adopted the Thomas resolution, which besides the immediate withdrawal of the troops from Russia, demands the repeal of the conscription act. It provides a special congress for taking action if the demands are not met.

Secretary Churchill declared the evacuation of north Russia would be continued but had been retarded by the necessity of bringing out many Russians who were in danger of their lives from Bolshevik vengeance as well as women and children. He denied that British troops had been employed or that the British government had accepted any responsibility in operations against Petrograd.

CARMEN'S STRIKE AGAIN POSTPONED

The rival factions of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., the joint conference board, representing the platform men and the public trustees, representing the company, have declared an armistice, through the terms of which strike action again has been postponed, this time until Tuesday of next week.

The strike of motormen and conductors all over the Bay State system originally was set for Tuesday of this week and then deferred until today, but a statement from the joint conference board read to the members of Local 250 at special meetings held in the Lunels building last night once more removed the impending tie-up from the immediate present.

The reason for the latest postponement, as announced to the carmen last night, is the summons received by the public trustees to appear before the legislative committee on street railways at the state house next Tuesday.

In the absence of Pres. Thomas J. Powers of Local 250 last evening's meetings were presided over by Vice President Enright. Delegates from Lowell to the joint conference board session in Boston yesterday outlined the situation to the men and announced the armistice.

The opinion is growing more general that the state legislative committee on street railways will provide ways and means of arriving at an amicable settlement of the questions at issue and that the strike alternative which has twice threatened within a week eventually will be abandoned.

WILL CURTAIL WORKING FORCE

Owing to the fact that the public property department's appropriation this year was $15,000 less than that received in 1918, Commissioner George E. Marchand will be compelled to curtail his working force beginning next week. The decrease will result in about 50 per cent of the men now employed being idle on alternate weeks.

Commissioner Marchand received an appropriation of $70,000 at the beginning of the year while in 1918 the appropriation for the public property department was $85,000. The commissioner says that it is the custom of the department to curtail its force one-half during the first three months of the year when work is usually quiet, but this year owing to the demand for portable schools and other projects in the building department, he maintained his working force at full capacity. Instead of laying off men in the early part of the year he will have to do it at the tail end of the year. There are 65 men employed in the building department exclusive of those at the rifle range and comfort station. One-half of these will be laid next week and the other half on the following week, and so on.

IS G. A. R. WOULD SHOOT ALL ANARCHISTS

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 12.—Disloyalty and everything tinged with un-Americanism were dealt stinging blows yesterday by the Grand Army of the Republic, which is holding its annual encampment here, and by the Sons of Veterans in their annual encampment here and by the Sons of Veterans in their annual reunion.

In his annual address, Commander-in-Chief Clarence E. Adams of the G.A.R. told his comrades "to shoot on the spot anyone attempting to raise the red flag of anarchy in this country."

Calls Strikes "Deserters"

hands of the properly constituted authorities.

Desertion of Duty

"Will you negotiate with the strikers to see if a basis can be arrived at for their return?"

"The present situation should not be called a strike. There is no strike on. These men are public officials not employees. It is improperly referred to as a strike. A strike is generally considered to be the act of employees seeking to gain better conditions from a private employer. These men were officials representing, not any private employer but the whole public."

"What do you call their act of leaving their positions?"

"Desertion of duty."

"I do not think of any conditions under which they should be reinstated, but I must say again that it is a matter wholly beyond my control."

"If you should come to say and announce that unless their demands were granted there would be a general strike, what would be your reply?"

"I do not know what you mean by their demands."

"Hasn't their principal demand that they be allowed to join the A. P. of L?"

"That of course has already been decided. A rule of the police department which is the law of the Commonwealth provides that they shall not join any outside organization. That being the law, there can be but one reply to any such demand."

"Would you be willing that the 39 suspended men should be reinstated, and the controversy submitted to arbitration?"

"Do we understand that if the men yield to your view, the men would be taken back?"

"I do not understand any such suggestion was made."

"If it were made, what would be your attitude?"

"My personal opinion is that they would not be taken back. You should keep in mind, however, that I have no authority whatever over that matter. My only authority is over the police commissioner and when I have appointed him, it is his duty to administer the department."

Opposes Reinstatement

"Do I understand that you are personally of the opinion that the men should not be reinstated?"

Maintain Order at Any Cost

"Do you anticipate that it will be necessary to call out additional military assistance?"

"That of course cannot be foretold. At present there is no apparent need for it. I may say, however, that we shall maintain law and order at whatever cost is necessary."

The Intimation by Gov. Coolidge that regardless of his personal views the fate of the striking policemen so far as the state was concerned, was in the hands of Police Commissioner Curtis, led to inquiries at the latter's office about his position. The commissioner could not be reached but his counsel, James H. Devlin, Jr., said:

Curtis Counsel Talks

"In my opinion, the policemen who left their posts have worn the uniform of the Boston police force for the last time. While the commissioner has not acted on this particular point of reinstatement, I feel certain that the men who struck have separated themselves finally from the department."

Many Ask Reinstatement

The matter of requests for reinstatement already has come up, according to Superintendent of Police Crowley, who said that a number of the striking officers had applied for restoration to duty. At present, Mr. Crowley said these applications were on file. If the commissioner decided that the strikers cannot return, he must fill the places of several hundred men the exact number being 12,000. Major Peters has claimed that 600 of a total force of more than 1,000 had remained loyal. According to the strikers not more than 100 officers had failed to join the union.

Strikers Claim Faults

The strikers claim that they are galling and that with the addition of the Metropolitan police, who refused to serve within the city limits the union roll showed 1355 members.

The civil service list from which the police officers ordinarily are drawn have been exhausted and under the law the commissioner may recruit his force provisionally without civil service requirements, if the appointees are veterans of the army or navy.

Streets Normal Today

Except for the presence of troops and many banded up windows, the streets appeared normal today. Some reports have exaggerated the situation. The citizens of Boston do not appear to be terrorized at all business is going on as usual. Business men are buying and selling though some have guns in their hip pockets and the professional life of the city is normal so far as may be observed. That law-abiding citizens are another than they have been in some time is beyond dispute.

Mayor Peters Indignant

Mayor Peters was indignant today because of some reports that he had received from out-of-town. He said:

"In the three days of the strike I have not heard of a single case of indecency committed upon women. I do not know where these reports come from."

There is a tendency in some quarters to distort the facts.

"The dice games which flourished for a time, had been pretty much broken up today and traffic was moving with out serious complications. A few arrests were made. Five men were captured when a volunteer officer jumped upon the running board of an automobile in which they were getting away. Two families and other passengers were caught and a supply of cartridges was found in the bottom of the car. Two of the men who were armed were charged with carrying concealed weapons and the three others were held as suspicious persons."

SYMPATHETIC STRIKE OF ELECTRICIANS

The proclamation said that the entire state board of Massachusetts has been called out. Under the provisions of the government it is a matter of public interest that the state board of public utilities should be called out if it is deemed necessary. That concerned the public and will be called out if it is deemed necessary.

MANY EX-SERVICE MEN VOLUNTEER

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—Scores of applicants appeared at the enrollment bureau at the chamber of commerce building yesterday, where former fighting men were being organized into a corps of assistants to help in replacing the policemen who walked out Tuesday night. While no authentic figures could be obtained at the bureau, it was learned that more than 1000 men, many of them ex-servicemen, had volunteered to help in replacing the policemen who walked out Tuesday night.

Harvard athletes and members of the city's most prominent families have already volunteered and have been sent to various sections of the city to aid in restoring and maintaining order. A steady procession of men, young and middle-aged, thronged the enrollment bureau all day and up to midnight.

The advertisement appeared in the city's newspapers and was posted in shop windows all over the city. It was a prominent feature of the day and a stimulating effect on the volunteers by citizens in all walks of life.

Enrollment will continue as long as emergency exists, according to the bureau.

"MIGHTY GOOD TIME," PERSHING

American Commander
Thanks New York and
Leaves for Washington

Arrives at Washington on
Anniversary of Great St.
Mihiel Drive

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Flags presented to General Pershing here are to remain in New York to symbolize victory in the war. Before leaving for Philadelphia today, he said: "I am going to offer the beautiful flags presented to me by Commissioner Wana-maker, in behalf of the citizens of New York to the great metropolis and ask that they be placed on display in the rotunda of city hall or some other appropriate place to symbolize our victory."

"I shall retain the title in these flags in order that I may always have an attachment for New York which has so greatly endeared itself to me."

The general was cheered by railroad employees and commuters as he entered the station.

"I thank you all. I have had a mighty good time," he shouted, as his train pulled out.

GENERAL PERSHING WILL REACH
CAPITAL THIS AFTERNOON—
PLAN BIG WELCOME

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—General Pershing will arrive in Washington today, the anniversary of the beginning of the great St. Mihiel drive, America's first big effort in the war.

His special train, after a stop of several hours in Philadelphia, en route from New York is to arrive in the capital at 4 o'clock. Vice President Marshall, acting for President Wilson; Secretary Baker, members of the general staff, the congressional committee of welcome and many government officials will greet him. As the train pulls in a battery of the first division will fire a salute of 17 guns.

After a brief reception in the president's room at the Union station, General Pershing, preceded by a cavalry escort, will pass up Pennsylvania avenue, the route of the First Division parade, which he will head next Wednesday, to the hotel at which he will make his headquarters for the next few weeks.

Indications were that a greater crowd would greet the general both at the station and on his way to his hotel, while District of Columbia officials have suggested that all whistles and bells in the city be sounded in welcome.

General Pershing, it is expected will not report formally at the war department until tomorrow.

paid as soon as the details of the matter had been cleared up. Then came a letter from the corporation's local attorney saying that inasmuch as the city had no legal contract, there was no reason why the money should be paid.

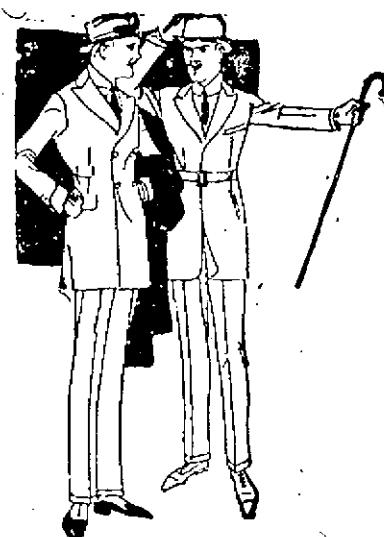

The result was much indignation on the part of the mayor, a per letter to the corporation and a personal conference with L. K. Sherman, the corporation's president. Finally, the check came this morning and with it a letter from Congressman John Jacob Rogers, through whose personal efforts the money has finally been sent here.

Approximately $5000 of this money will go to the sewer department and the rest to the water department.

Commissioner Murphy has been on the anxious lookout for the money for the past several weeks and at one time was obliged to curtail his department greatly because of the check's non-arrival. However, now that the money is here, the department will once more resume its normal course.

Congressman Rogers' letter follows:

Sept. 11, 1919.
Hon. Perry D. Thompson, Mayor,
Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir—We have talked several times about your efforts to obtain the payment from the United States housing corporation to the city of Lowell of $5127.55 in reimbursement of the expenses incurred by the city at the request of the housing corporation for sewers, street improvements, etc. Months ago and somewhat more recently also you have told me of the trouble which officials of the housing corporation made to you. Two or three days ago I noticed in a Lowell newspaper the statement that Lowell street work was being curtailed and the street employees consequently discharged because of the failure of the housing corporation to make the payment. Under these circumstances it occurred to me that you might welcome an independent effort on my part to urge the housing corporation to live up to its agreement. Accordingly, I called this morning at the offices of the housing corporation and after conference with President L. K. Sherman, the head of the corporation, Mr. Macomber, vice president, Mr. Watson of Lowell, and Mr. Salcau, the head of the legal department, I was able to have instructions issued for the immediate preparation of the check. Later in the day the bureau actually issued the check and handed it to me for transmittal to you.

I accordingly enclose herewith check received and hope that it may be of some assistance in relieving the financial stringency of the street department.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN JACOB ROGERS.
